Stimson and Conferees Ride Through Silent Streets in New York and Find Capital Cold.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—Smiling happily, three members of the American delegation to the London naval conference returned to Washington late today to present an official copy of the treaty to President Hoover for transmission to the senate.

The presentation will be made tomorrow at the White House and President Hoover is expected to send the treaty, accompanied by a special message, to the senate later in the week.

Arrival of the delegation found the senate planning to hold hearings on the treaty to ascertain exactly in what status it places the United States in relation to Great Britain and Japan. Hearings will begin soon after the treaty is placed before the senate.

Only a few of the senators have indicated approval or disapproval of the pact which was drawn up after negotiations lasting three months. Most of them have withheld judgment pending more complete study.

Chairman Borah, of the foreign relations committee to which the treaty will be referred, has indicated approval but reserved final judgment until he has studied it more carefully.

Mystery surrounded the whereabouts of the official copy of the treaty for a short time after the delegation arrived. Secretary Stimson laughingly declined to tell newspapermen where the copy was, and Adams and Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the other returning members, professed to have no knowledge of its location.

It had been placed in the custody of William Beck, secretary to Stimson, for a brief visit. He arrived in Washington later and the treaty was locked in a state department vault.

Only a few persons, aside from newspapermen and photographers, were at the station to greet the delegates upon their arrival from New York. After posing for photographers and talking briefly with newspapermen, they left for their homes.

Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, remained in New York, and Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, the other delegate to go from this country, remained in Europe for a brief visit.

The three returning members will call at the White House at noon tomorrow to pay their respects to President Hoover and turn over the treaty to him. They will be entertained at a luncheon which also will be attended by Assistant Secretary Jahncke, of the navy, and Assistant Secretary Cotton, of the state department. Ambassador Morrow was prepared to leave New York if the president desired his presence at the conference.

Secretary Stimson, head of the delegation, did not have any appointment at the White House until tomorrow. He said upon his arrival that he would call upon President Hoover "tomorrow."

Pressed by newspapermen for a statement, Secretary Stimson said: "I am awfully glad to get back and see these familiar faces. We had a wonderful voyage and a great reunion in New York."

The delegation arrived in New York this morning and after an official welcome there departed for Washington on a special train.

Up that deep canyon of skyscrapers the parade passed through crowds strangely silent, to the sun-drenched plaza of city hall. Only an occasional length of ticker tape floated down.

A taxi driver caught in the parade jam pulled up and called to a patrolman. "What's this all about?"

"Admiral Stimson's home from the peace conference," the officer replied. "At city hall the delegates got a burst of handclapping as they climbed the steps to the second floor auditorium where they were greeted by Secretary Stimson and Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, responded to Mr. McKee's welcome. Both members of the three-power treaty as a step forward toward world peace. Mr. Stimson expressing the opinion that Italy and France eventually would accept such a treaty as that signed by the three major powers."

Bertram Jackson, speaking on Hugo's Death Penalty and Robert Berkeley on Mary Anthony's speech, won second and third prizes, respectively.

City Hall Elevators Not To Be Insured

Passengers will ride the elevators at the new Atlanta city hall at their own risk, in accordance with a ruling of City Attorney James L. Mayson.

Tuesday afternoon the insurance committee of council approved the ruling and declined to take out any liability insurance on the four fast elevators serving the new structure.

Mr. Mayson ruled that the borough

Power Company Offer for Bridge Rights Too Low

Offer of the Georgia Power Company for traction franchise rights over the Forsyth street viaduct, now under construction, is to $35,000 too low, according to James L. Mayson, city attorney, who has addressed a letter to the bridge committee of council explaining his stand in the matter.

The company has offered Atlanta $7,500 in cash and has agreed to defray the total expense of relaying the rails over the new structure.

Under the present contract with the borough government, the company pays $700 a year plus $50 a year for each car over 10 operated regularly over the bridge. This has made the income to Atlanta approximately $2,700 a year. Mr. Mayson estimates the life of the bridge at 20 years.

Text of Mr. Mayson's statement regarding the matter follows:

"My information is the amount paid annually has been about $2,700. I understand the life of the tracks will be about 20 years. Taking the total receipts for this number of years, less expense of reconstruction and maintenance, and this would leave about $35,000. From this it will be seen that $7,500 will not begin to compensate the city for release of the company from the present contract."

First Degree Murder Charged to Maxon

NEW YORK, April 29.—(P)—On the accusations of his fellow lodgers that he beat and kicked an old man to death while in a drunken frenzy in an upper West Side rooming house on Good Friday morning, James Matthem Maxon, Jr., 21-year-old son of a southern bishop, was held without bail in Tombs prison tonight, formally charged with first degree murder.

In homicide court today Chief Medical Examiner Charles Norris described the dead David Paynter as "an old man, past 70, very thin and frail," and told of the crushed chest, battered face, bruises and broken bones that his autopsy revealed.

Two roomers in the house on West End avenue testified that they had seen Maxon knock Paynter down with a chair and, after he was down, hit him two or three times more with the chair and then kick him.

After they had finished, Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan ordered young Maxon held without bail for the grand jury.

He did so over the protest of Martin W. Littleton, the young man's lawyer, who declared that there was "absolutely nothing to show that the boy could possibly have a motive for killing Paynter."

Magistrate Corrigan overruled him, remarking that "the condition of the deceased's body, as described by the medical examiner, and testimony of the witnesses who say they saw Maxon strike him again and again after he was down indicate clearly enough to me that he intended to kill him."

The Right Rev. James Matthew Maxon, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Tennessee, was in the courtroom. As he heard the magistrate direct that his son be charged with first degree murder—the penalty for which in New York state may be death in the electric chair—he turned very pale and sat for some seconds with his eyes closed. In a few minutes he left the building with Mr. Littleton.

He had nothing to say.

Young Maxon, pallid and apparently thinner than when he was arrested nearly two weeks ago, watched with a troubled frown his landlady and his fellow lodgers as they took the stand, one after another, and, staring out over his head at the electric chair in the rear of the courtroom, gave their versions of what happened in the rooming house in the early morning of April 18.

For the most part, their stories were repetitions of the story the police gave out at the time of Maxon's arrest.

One of the variations came from the arresting officer, Patrolman George Croley, who said that after he had arrived on the scene, Maxon wiped the blood off Paynter's face with a cloth, threw his arms around his neck, and kissed him. Paynter was then unconscious. He died a short time later.

Croley also testified that, as he came into the rooming house, the landlady, Miss Rose Hickey, said to Maxon:

"You'd better give the cop some money. They've been good to us here in the past."

Maxon's reply, Patrolman Croley said, went from the enormous field of "I'll do nothing of the sort. The police haven't got anything on me."

Chief Medical Examiner Charles Norris was the first witness. In a dry, matter-of-fact manner, he described the results of his autopsy on Paynter.

"The deceased," he said, "was an old man. He weighed 118 pounds. His death was caused by hemorrhage and shock."

"I examined the brain for alcohol, but found none."

Miss Hickey, the landlady; James McGarry, the houseman; and Samuel Ecclesine and Edward Scully, lodgers, told on the stand the story the police already had given out—of a young man, in a drunken frenzy, tearing the medicine cabinet and lighting fixtures out in a bathroom, so that the gas was leaking, rushing down into the landlady's room, terrifying her and the other lodgers, chasing them and finally hurling her and one of the roomers out the front door into the street, after threatening to kill them all.

Ecclesine, from the bottom of a stairway leading into the kitchen, and Scully, staring through a window from a courtyard outside, both said they saw Maxon knock Paynter down and beat and kick him to death.

A representative of the district attorney's office said Maxon's case would be taken before the grand jury within the next two weeks.

Prince of Lundy Island Appeals Coinage Case

LONDON, April 29.—(P)—A British high court may have to decide whether Lundy island, containing 1,000 acres and 42 inhabitants, is "outside the world" as far as British laws are concerned.

Martin Coles Harman, London businessman and owner of the tiny island, was fined five pounds (about $25) with costs of 15 guineas (about $75.50), April 15, on a charge of issuing special coins for the island. Today he was granted leave to appeal.

Harman bought the island, which lies in Bristol channel, off the north coast of Devonshire, in 1925. Since then he has been more or less of an unrecognized king, for the island's position regarding sovereignty of Great Britain has been disputed for some time. Most of the inhabitants are his employees.

The court which convicted him decided that Harman's issuance of money was contrary to the British coinage act, but his attorney contended that the island was "outside the world"—that no taxes were paid and that there was no register of births, deaths or marriages. He cited cases in which he said British courts had declared the island to be an independent domain.

Dynamite Discovered Under Judge's Home

MADISONVILLE, Ky., April 29.—(P)—Four sticks of dynamite and a note threatening death to County Judge J. D. Shain if he asked the grand jury to indict ten striking miners were found on the veranda of the judge's residence today.

Judge Shain had ordered the ten miners held under bond on charges of banding and confederating after a minor disturbance at Nortonville, near here, where two miners' homes were dynamited this morning.

The package containing the note and dynamite also contained a rifle cartridge and a shotgun shell. The note was printed by hand and signed "The Bloody Williamson County, Ill."

It read as follows:

"We thoroughly understand the dirty deal you gave the ten striking miners of Nortonville as you held them under bond as they are not guilty. We do hereby warn you if

TWO HOMES DAMAGED BY BLASTS

NORTONVILLE, Ky., April 29.—(P)—The homes of Bailey Keith, white, and Clyde Bass, negro, both miners, were dynamited early today.

The Keith residence was damaged $2,500 and the other $1,500.

Keith and his wife and family were asleep at the time. The roof and part of the walls fell near them but they were not injured. Bass and his wife were away from home. Keith owns his home, while Bass' residence is owned by the Norton Coal Company, which employs both men.

Several minor disorders have occurred in the western Kentucky coal field recently. Approximately 4,000 miners are out of work.

Druid Hills Church To Give Reception

Dr. and Mrs. Louie D. Newton and all new members of the congregation the Druid Hills Baptist church will honor guests of the entire church at a reception at 7:45 o'clock tonight at the church auditorium. It was announced Tuesday by Mrs. Gordon Jones, chairman of a committee in charge of the affair.

Each year the congregation entertains the pastor and all new members taken in during the past year, and tonight has been set for the event this year.

It is the one social gathering of the year in which every division of the church participates. The object is to acquaint the members with each other and to bind closer the "bonds of good fellowship," Mrs. Jones said.

Fund Probers to Hear McCormick, Deneen

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(P)—Campaign receipts and expenditures of Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick and Senator Deneen, of Illinois, in the recent Illinois primary will be submitted by them in person next Thursday to the senate campaign investigating committee.

Chairman Nye, of the committee, said today it had been decided to call them in person to file a list of receipts and expenditures and that they had acquiesced.

Future action of the committee in regard to the Illinois primary will be determined later.

Nye said the committee would direct former Senator James Hamilton Lewis, democratic nominee for senator, and Newton Jenkins, the third republican senatorial candidate in the primary, to forward a list of their receipts and expenditures. Present plans do not call for their appearance in person.

Mrs. Marshall Field To Get Huge Alimony

NEW YORK, April 29.—(P)—The Daily News, in a copyrighted article, says Mrs. Evelyn Marshall Field left New York today to obtain a divorce in Reno, Nev., after receiving assurance of an income of more than $1,000,000 a year—one of the largest divorce settlements ever obtained—from counsel for her husband, Marshall Field, 3rd, grandson of the Chicago merchant prince.

In addition to the huge income settlement, The News says, Mrs. Field has obtained possession of the Field town house at 4 East Seventh street, valued at about $3,000,000, and custody of the three Field children, Marshall Jr., 14, Barbara, 11, and Bernice, 6.

Virtually the entire settlement was arranged through trust fund assignment from the enormous Field fortune, the newspaper says. No special provision was made for the children, since they are to inherit the bulk of the Field estate on the death of their father, under the terms of their late great-grandfather's will.

May 5 Declared Final Day To Register for Election

Ruling of Attorney-General Napier Handed Down at Request of Dr. M. L. Duggan.

Attorney General George M. Napier Tuesday gave it as his opinion that registration lists for the state and general elections this fall would close on May 5, based on the fact that the 4th comes on Sunday, and a day of grace is usually allowed under such circumstances.

Attorney-General George M. Napier said, quoting the Georgia statute applicable: "This establishes the final date for the payment of taxes and registration for the regular election as being six months preceding the time for holding the election, which will be November 4, 1936."

"The last day for the payment of taxes, therefore, would be May 4. But the fourth of May falls on a Sunday, and under the usual rule for the transaction of business, when a fixed date falls on a Sunday the following Monday would be substituted for the time."

"It is my opinion, therefore, that to register on Monday, May 5, would be sufficient; but for fear that some point might be made and that some voters might possibly be refused the privilege of exercising the election franchise if they wait until Monday to register, I would suggest that they register on Saturday, in which event no possible point can be made on the qualification of voters who pay their taxes and register on that date."

The opinion was given at the request of Dr. M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of schools, who said that it had been generally published in the state that May 8 was the last day.

Warning also was issued by the Fulton board of registrars that the lists for the state and county election next fall, including the primary in September, would close on May 5. All back taxes up to that time, including 1929 taxes, must have been paid in order to be able to vote at these elections, for no names can be added after May 5, it was said.

"Persons whose state and county taxes are not paid by May 5 will be disqualified from voting and their names will be removed from the voting lists," said W. W. Gaines, of the board of registrars. The board is checking the voting lists against the county tax digests and the names of all voters whose names do not appear on the tax digests are being removed from the voting lists. It appears that there are many thousands of persons on the voting lists whose names do not appear on the tax digests of the county.

"Perhaps many of these persons have left the county. Many others perhaps registered years ago and have not returned or paid any taxes since that time. The law requires payment of all taxes as a qualification for voting. So all names are being carefully checked against the tax digests, with the result that great numbers of persons are being removed from the voting lists. It is the desire of the board that the lists shall be compiled as nearly correct as possible—that all qualified voters shall appear on the lists and that all disqualified persons shall be removed."

GEORGE WILL TAKE 10-DAY VACATION

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(Special.)—Marking the first vacation from Washington he has taken since last summer, Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, will leave here tomorrow on a trip that will take him away from the capital for a period of ten days.

Stopping over at Pinehurst en route to Georgia, he will deliver an address Thursday before the annual meeting of the North Carolina Bar Association, in keeping with an engagement made some time back. On May 6, Senator George will officiate at the ceremonies to be held at Brunswick, when an official delegation from Attleboro, Mass., will return to heirs of the old King plantation, of St. Simons Island, an antique grandfather clock captured in a raid off the Georgia coast by members of crew of a federal gunboat during the civil war. The original ownership of the clock was only recently discovered, which led to decision to return it.

Senator George will receive the clock as the official representative of the state of Georgia. During his stay at Brunswick he will be the guest of Howard E. Coffin, of Sapelo Island, who is in charge of the ceremonies. The old timepiece will be returned to heirs of the King estate by the mayor of Attleboro, who will be accompanied by the members of congress from that district and a group of some twenty-five citizens bearing a message from the governor of the state.

Before returning to Washington, Senator George will deliver an address in Atlanta on May 8, before a meeting of the Railway Brotherhood. He is expected to remain there a day or so, upon leaving Pinehurst Thursday he will go direct to his home in Vienna, for a brief business trip, having been away from home for some months, and going from Vienna to Brunswick.

Yale Savant Doubts 'Planet X' Is Planet

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—Dr. E. W. Brown, professor of mathematics at Yale University, told members of the National Academy of Sciences here today that the new planet discovered by the Lowell observatory is not the one predicted by the late Percival Lowell.

"If the same methods had been used with the additional observations of Uranus which have been made since Lowell completed his work," Dr. Brown explained, "the predicted place of the planet in the sky would have been changed by some 25 or 30 degrees."

Had the planet been discovered in 1906, he said, it would have been 40 degrees off from Lowell's prediction, and 90 degrees in error if the year 1875 had brought the discovery. The actual planet discovered has never been close enough either to Uranus or to Neptune to produce any measurable perturbations on those planets, the speaker said.

The new planet, which Dr. Brown called planet X, in his opinion has a magnitude about the size of the earth instead of a magnitude about seven times the earth as was predicted by Dr. Lowell.

"It follows," the Yale professor said, "that the discovery of a new planet near the predicted position perhaps as the first of others to be found beyond the orbit of Neptune. Although it seems impossible to give Lowell the credit of having predicted a new planet, his work undoubtedly stimulated a search for one."

Wisconsin High Court Breaks 'Cigar Trust'

MADISON, Wis., April 29.—(AP)—Exclusive selling agreements between cigar manufacturers and jobbers constitute a monopoly, the Wisconsin supreme court ruled today.

By its decision the state smashed what was termed a cigar trust in Milwaukee. Parties to the monopoly are the Lewis and Leidesdorf Company, Milwaukee jobbers of smokers' articles, the General Cigar Company and the G. H. P. Company, corporation of Wisconsin, New York and Delaware.

The Lewis Company had an agreement with the other companies whereby the latter would sell exclusively to the Lewis Company in Milwaukee. Retailers in Milwaukee who desired to sell products of the General and G. H. P. companies had to buy through the Lewis company.

The defendants contended there was no monopolization of the cigar and tobacco selling industry in Wisconsin; that operations were confined only to the Milwaukee area. They also contended there was no attempt at price-fixing and therefore the agreements were not of a monopolistic tendency. To these views the court held the expression "any part of the trade" used in the anti-trust law, "has a geographical as well as a distributive application."

HARRIS BILL VOTE MAY BE RECONSIDERED

Copeland, Who Voted Against Measure, Asks Another Ballot.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Through an unexpected move late today on the part of Senator Royal S. Copeland, democrat, of New York, a whole controversy over the Mexican immigration bill sponsored by Senator W. J. Harris, of Georgia, may be thrown back on the floor of the chamber for further consideration.

The New York senator moved to reconsider the vote recently taken under which the Harris measure was recommended to the committee on immigration. It was thought at the time that the vote to recommit, which carried by a margin of several votes, definitely eliminated the legislation for the rest of the session.

Under the rules, anyone who votes with the majority may later present a motion to reconsider the action taken. Senator Copeland was one of those voting to recommit and therefore is eligible to bring the matter up again. He announced that he would press for another vote as soon as the senate comes to a full debate on confirmation of Judge John J. Parker as an associate justice of the supreme court.

Senator Harris tonight expressed gratification over the move and predicted that his measure would yet receive favorable consideration. It would limit Mexican immigration to some two or three thousand annually, as compared with the estimated 50,000 coming in under present regulations.

Capone Leaves Island Estate On 'Little Trip'

MIAMI, Fla., April 29.—(AP)—Scarface Al Capone left his Palm Beach residence here today by automobile with four men and a quantity of baggage, police were informed. The report was made by a member of the force who has been on duty in the vicinity of the Capone home since the latter's arrival for a two-week vacation trip April 20.

The police were informed that the gangster told the guard on departing that he was going "for a little trip." Later in the day Capone's two brothers, John and Alvin, returned in the two automobiles in which the departure was made.

Speculation was general as to Capone's destination. It was reported that he had left for a two-day trip to Havana by airplane, although no information as to his chartering an airplane for such a trip was found. J. F. Gordon, one of Capone's attorneys, is out of the city for several days, according to information from his office. Another attorney, Vincent C. Giblin, said he had no knowledge of Capone's movements during the day.

The gangster is awaiting further hearing on a petition filed last week by State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne to padlock the Capone home under the Florida insane law. Arguments of attorneys presented at the opening of the criminal court hearing Saturday have not been ruled upon by Judge Paul Barnes. Federal Judge Halsted C. Ritter on Friday made permanent a temporary order restraining 20 Florida sheriffs from arresting Capone without a warrant. The order was issued after Governor Carlton telegraphed the 67 sheriffs in the state to arrest the racketeer on sight and escort him out of the state.

Coast Guards Capture Small Rum Fleet

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., April 29.—(AP)—A rum running fleet of two 60-foot speedsters, and a smaller, slower, supply craft, was abandoned in Raritan river today after a furious battle in the bay with a coast guard patrol boat.

The runners eluded the patrol and managed to land their cargo before the coast guards traced them up the river. Several bullet holes were in the boats, but none of the one-pound shells fired by the coast guards had found their mark.

The smugglers were discovered roaring across Raritan bay without lights about two hours before dawn. The battle in the bay awakened Perth Amboy and South Amboy residents who recently had demanded of officials at Washington that "something be done" about their frequent loss of sleep.

The captured boats were brought to the coast guard base at Clifton, Staten Island.

Miamian Is Killed As Auto Overturns

OKEECHOBEE, Fla., April 29.—(AP)—T. J. Covington, Miami produce merchant, met death today when his automobile overturned into a water-filled ditch on the highway between this city and Fort Pierce. C. B. Adams, Miami, and E. A. Clarke, Coral Gables, riding with Covington, managed to crawl from beneath the car, although they were submerged in the water.

Adams and Clarke told a coroner's jury which was convened at the scene that the car started skidding on the wet highway and they believed Covington applied the brakes. They were unable to lift the car from Covington until after assistance arrived from a passing motorist.

Covington is said to be survived by a wife and two children. He is said to have resided at the corner of Biscayne boulevard and Twenty-fifth street.

Federal Troops Slay Mexican Bandit Chief

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—Edwin Schoenrich, American consul at Mazatlan, Mexico, reported to the state department today that General Rodriguez, commander of Mexican forces, had informed him that his troops had killed Cruz Delgado, leader of the "Bristow bandits."

The bandits are those who last month captured J. E. Bristow, Oklahoma oil man, held him prisoner for six weeks, and finally released him to his son on the payment of $1,900 ransom. Schoenrich said that Delgado was killed April 24.

J. K. Ottley Urges Committee To Aid Branch Bank System

House Banking and Currency Asked To Adopt Sympathetic Attitude in Approaching Problems.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(Special.)—Appearing before the house banking and currency committee today, John K. Ottley, president of the First National Bank of Atlanta, urged that congress adopt a sympathetic attitude in approaching the problems of branch and group banking, now being considered by the committee.

Mr. Ottley was invited to appear before the committee by Representative Charles H. Brand, of Georgia, one of its ranking democratic members, and Chairman Louis T. McFadden, of Pennsylvania. He spent more than two hours on the stand presenting a prepared statement and answering questions on the general banking situation.

DRUGGISTS ENDORSE
GUARANTEED REMEDY

How quickly and satisfactorily a person can get rid of pile trouble nowadays is proven again and again since the chemists perfected the new Colac Pile Pills which you swallow at meal times, like any other pill. Note what a druggist says:—
"One of my customers had complained so long and tried so many things we had for piles—I figured he would never be cured. It looked like a hopeless case to me which only a surgeon could help, but he saw an 'ad' one day and asked us to get Colac Pile Pills for him. It was the first we'd heard of them but he sure was on the right track. Three bottles worked such marvelous changes in that man he fairly danced with joy financial institutions to effect consolidations. Mr. Ottley told the committee that the old system of independent banking with which the rural population had to deal, has failed. He said that public confidence in the small, independent bank has been greatly shaken in the southeastern section, at least, due to adverse economic conditions which larger institutions with a larger field of operations would be able to overcome.

"When strongly adverse economic conditions strike a local community in which there is a bank which serves that community alone, it is next to impossible to prevent such a bank from failing," said Mr. Ottley. "Successive periods of drought, the activity of a fruit pest or of a plant disease, the adverse conditions of the market for a local product, such causes as these have brought about the downfall of hundreds of small banks which have been unable to stand by virtue of their limited size and influence, cannot possibly secure the type of management which modern banking demands but, even with good management the little local bank under such conditions as I have described would be virtually helpless. The bank had to attempt to close to offer what facilities it possessed.

Needs Business Diversity.

"What is really the matter with the small bank? The answer lies in the narrow base upon which it rests. It cannot avail itself of the diversity of business which is essential to banking strength. Without such diversification it can only be a fair weather bank. If, therefore, we could throw behind every local bank in the sixth federal reserve district the strength and stability which comes from the diversified business of the entire district, bank failures from local causes would cease. The local bank itself cannot extend its business to tap the great variety of enterprises embraced in our area. That contact it can gain by becoming a part of a group system of banks or a branch of a large parent bank.

"First National Associates of Atlanta have begun under the group system to undertake to stabilize banking conditions in the Atlanta trade area—using the term which has been discussed before your committee. It has brought together eight banks, three in Atlanta—including the First National Bank—one in Augusta, one in Columbus, one in Macon, one in Rome and one in Savannah. The parent bank and the 10 branches in Atlanta bring the total banking offices of the group to 18. The smallest bank in this group has a capital and surplus of $362,000. These banks are limited entirely to the state of Georgia, but by reason of the business spread of the First National Bank of Atlanta they have now behind them a large share of the diversification of business in the sixth district. The expansion of the First National group into other parts of the Atlanta district would strengthen the group from this point of view.

Sympathy Is Urged.

"In view of the fact that group banking, such as the First National Associates, has embarked upon, is designed to respond to an economic demand in our civilization—a demand for greater strength and stability in banking and a more even distribution of banking facilities to the various types of our population—may I take the liberty to say that this committee should make toward it a sympathetic approach. If the committee should decide that group banking ought to be permitted to continue in operation under federal supervision and control, certain restrictions and safeguards should be thrown around it for the general protection of the public.

GOVERNMENT TO BUILD ONE STRUCTURE HERE

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(Special.)—Further assurance was given Senator W. J. Harris and Senator Walter F. George today by Secretary of the Treasury Perry Heath that government officials have no intention of adopting a dual building project for Atlanta.

Both Georgia senators conferred with Mr. Heath, a member of the federal building commission, after receipt of reports from Atlanta that officials here were still considering a program calling for the erection of two buildings instead of one out of funds authorized and contemplated for the city.

The building to be erected, said Mr. Heath, will be one of moderate proportions, suitable to house general activities of the federal government in Atlanta. He made it clear that he was opposed to any suggestion of dividing the funds on a two-building plan.

While Senator Harris and Senator George were conferring with the treasury department official, Representative Robert Ramspeck, of the fifth Georgia district, called on Fourth Assistant Postmaster General John W. Philp. He was informed that the dual plan had been proposed in certain quarters, but indicated that it had never been considered over seriously.

Two developments of indicated importance came out during the conferences today. First, Senator Harris said Mr. Heath was unable to give him definite assurance that the building will be erected on an centrally located site. On the other hand, it was suggested that officials might find it more desirable to select one of the sites offered for the Terminal Station instead of picking some lot between the two stations. Just what site he had in mind, Mr. Heath declined to reveal.

C. of G. Site.

The second development was that the Central of Georgia property, immediately adjacent to the Terminal Station which was tentatively selected some months ago, may again be considered, although information coming from department heads last week was to the effect that it had been all but definitely eliminated. Representatives of the Central of Georgia, it was disclosed, are scheduled to arrive in Washington tomorrow for a further conference on the site. Presumably, they will make some modification of the offer last submitted in connection with certain aerial rights desired by the government as a condition to constructing the building there.

Meantime, the decision on the site question, originally promised for last week and later postponed to Monday, may be deferred for another week or 10 days. There is a chance, in fact, that no action may be taken for a month, if present indications may be taken as a guide. Still both department officials, charged with jurisdiction in the case, are striving to have the project settled as soon as possible, so far as the site is concerned, and have said they will make a determined effort to wind it up this week.

To Ask $500,000 More.

Looking to this end, Mr. Heath let it be known today that administration officials will shortly send a recommendation to congress for an additional appropriation of approximately $500,000 for the Atlanta building.

Already the sum of $450,000 has been appropriated but once a site is selected is contemplated that additional actual funds will be required for later operations.

Neither Mr. Philp nor Mr. Heath is yet able to say what the full cost of the Atlanta building will be. The original authorization was for $2,100,000 but both have since promised to recommend from $500,000 to $1,000,000 additional, depending on the site to be acquired and the type of structure to be erected.

THREE CANDIDATES ENTER CITY PRIMARY

Three candidates Tuesday announced for various positions for which nominations will be made in the democratic primary June 18, and the first contest loomed, that for council from the 11th ward.

Judge A. W. Callaway, of the first division of the recorder's courts, paid his entrance fee and qualified, while Councilman Frank H. Reynolds, of the eighth ward, and William R. Johnson, of the 11th, declared they would offer to succeed themselves.

Judge Callaway has been recorder of the division for a number of years and has a long record of public service. His race to succeed himself was expected by political observers. Thus far he is unopposed.

Mr. Reynolds has served on various important committees of the city, having been chairman of the sewer committee of that body for several years. He, too, is unopposed to date.

Councilman Johnson, completing his eighth year as a member of general council. Previous to entering council he served for three years as a member of the old police board. He declared Tuesday night that his friends in the ward had insisted that he offer again and that he has acceded to their wishes.

Cecil V. Whiddon is seeking the 11th ward council post and has paid his entrance fee. Announcement of Councilman Johnson makes the first contest in the primary.

Councilman Charles L. Chosewood, of the third ward, oldest member of council, will not offer to succeed himself, but will go next week to a private sanitarium for an operation for cataracts on his eyes. E. L. Almand has qualified for the race as his successor.

William H. Johnson thus far is the only formal entrant in the race for mayor, but Alderman Ben T. Hight, of the third ward, has begun distributing cards announcing his candidacy, and will make a formal announcement Sunday, he declared Tuesday. Several other entries are expected.

Councilman W. Garland Cooper, of the tenth ward, will not offer to succeed himself, charged with jurisdiction in the case, are striving to have the project settled as soon as possible, so far as the site is concerned, and have said they will make a determined effort to wind it up this week.

Etchings Exhibit Opens at Museum Here Wednesday

With an exceptionally interesting collection of etchings just arrived at the High Museum of Art for a 15-day exhibition, and with a special lecture on the American Skyscraper with special reference to the New York zoning law and the skyscrapers of that city scheduled for next Sunday afternoon, activity at the museum is attracting many art lovers just at present.

Last Sunday E. Marvin Underwood, prominent Atlanta attorney and collector of Japanese prints, spoke to approximately 135 people on the history and development of Japanese block printing, illustrating his talk with some magnificent specimens of that art which he has recently loaned to the museum.

The lecture next Sunday afternoon at 3:15 on skyscrapers will be given by L. Palmer Skidmore, director of the museum, and will be illustrated with some exceptionally fine new slides just completed by the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

The etchings of the Philadelphia Print Club, consisting of the annual show of that organization now on circuit around the country, arrived Tuesday from Savannah, where they were shown at the Telfair Academy. They will be hung at the museum today and will remain on view for approximately 15 days.

2 Moslem Converts Credited to Aimee

JERUSALEM, April 29.—(AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency says rumors were current throughout the country that Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, has converted two Moslems during her stay in the Holy Land.

In an interview with the agency she said she thought Zionism was "wonderful" and declared that it "thrilled her beyond words."

The evangelist, who quietly left Palestine today for a trip through Syria, was said to have delivered an exhortation to an audience of Arabs and Jews at Gethsemane in connection with her recent ceremony of washing the feet of believers beside the Jordan river.

Man Robs Employee To Carry His Point

YONKERS, N. Y., April 29.—(AP)—Jacob Ividasho used to be night watchman in the Strand Theater building.

Through the long nights he watched it faithfully—so faithfully, in fact, that recently its owners decided that since nothing was ever stolen from it, there was really no need for a night watchman.

This pained Ividasho. Police said he entered the building last night with pass keys he had retained and went through several of the offices. Merely as a gesture to emphasize the necessity for night watchmen, they said, he gathered up a few trivial objects on his way out.

Judge Boote today adjourned hearing on the charge of unlawful entry against Ividasho until Thursday. The owners are now debating whether they really do need a night watchman.

1,000 Fulton School Pupils To Take Part in 'Health Day'

Huge Crowd Is Expected by Education Officials at Lakewood Park on Friday, May 9.

Details for the health week program of the Fulton county schools, in which 1,000 pupils will participate and 8,000 others are expected to witness on May 9 at Lakewood Park were explained by County Elementary Supervisor H. L. Ramsey. More than 80 principals and teachers Tuesday afternoon at the Lakewood Park grand stand, from which point of vantage spectators will witness Maypole dances, health pageants and a grand health parade on the county school "Health Day."

Thirty-seven of the 39 county schools were represented at the meeting Tuesday afternoon and from reports made to Mr. Ramsey, it is estimated that at least 1,000 will participate in the various events, which are expected to bring one of the biggest crowds which ever assembled at Lakewood Park, as cooperation of Parent-Teachers and civic bodies is expected to swell the attendance to a huge figure.

From reports made it was ascertained that participating in the program, which is for honor attendance students, will be two high school pupils who have never missed a day nor been tardy in their school life, about 100 grammar school students from the second grade up who have not missed a day nor have been tardy to date and more than 900 grammar and high school students who have not missed a day nor have been tardy during this school year.

The first mentioned group is known as the blue ribbon group, the second as the red ribbon group and the third the white ribbon group.

The program of Friday, May 9, will start at 10 a. m. and will be arranged by Mr. Ramsey. After the program the children will have the freedom of the grounds.

Two groups of five schools each will participate simultaneously in Maypole dances, each group to be judged for the best dancers. The two best groups will compete for the grand prize. Samuel R. Young, Perkerson, Marion Smith, Lakewood Heights and Hapeville schools will compete in one Maypole contest and Ben Hill, Alonzo Richardson, E. Rivers, Grove Park and North Avenue in the other group. Fourteen minutes will be allotted to each group, seven minutes each to wind and unwind the ribbons.

How One Woman Lost 20 Pounds of Fat

Lost Her Double Chin
Lost Her Prominent Hips
Lost Her Sluggishness
Gained Physical Vigor
Gained in Vivaciousness
Gained a Shapely Figure.

If you're fat—first remove the cause! KRUSCHEN SALTS contains the 6 mineral salts your body organs, glands and nerves must have to function properly.

When your vital organs fail to perform their work correctly—your bowels and kidneys can't throw off that waste material—before you realize it—you're growing hideously fat! Take one-half teaspoonful of KRUSCHEN SALTS in a glass of hot water every morning—cut out your excessive food supply—exercise regularly—eat 2 weeks of the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—your eyes sparkle with glorious health—you feel younger in body—keener in mind. KRUSCHEN will give any fat person a joyous surprise. Get an 85c bottle of KRUSCHEN SALTS from Jacon's Pharmacy or any leading druggist anywhere in America (lasts 4 weeks). If this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the healthiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel a superb improvement in health—no glorious energy—no vivaciousness—also—no money gladly returned.

Hog and Poultry Sales Bring $200,000

More than $200,000 was brought to Georgia farmers in April through the agency of co-operative hog and poultry sales, incomplete reports at the bureau of markets of the state department of agriculture indicated Thursday.

Farmers in 27 counties sold 254,417 pounds of poultry, which brought $85,350.12, while 766,938 pounds of hogs were sold at $62,087.70. On the basis of these reports, it was estimated at the department that total sales would exceed $200,000.

National Guard Of Georgia Given Boost by Parker

Declaring that while the state spends $40,000 a year on the national guard the federal government is spending $800,000, Adjutant General Homer C. Parker Tuesday night broadcast an address over WGST in the interest of the national guard.

"When we take into consideration the fact that the state does not pay any one of the officers of the organization, with the exception of the adjutant general and the quartermaster, it is amazing how successful we have been. Although the state appropriates less money per capita than any other state in the Union for its national guard, we are of the opinion that our guard is not excelled by that of any other state," he said.

The state of Pennsylvania, he declared, in 1929 spent more money in building armories than the state of Georgia has expended for all military purposes in its entire history.

"I believe I could render no greater service to the state than to assist my co-laborers in the military service in arousing the people of the state and causing them to become more interested in their citizen-soldiers," he stated.

Captain L. O. Mosley, of the 122d infantry, followed Adjutant General Parker in the air. He briefly outlined the advantages of Camp Foster, where the 122d infantry will train. Conditions there, he declared, approximate the ideal for training camp purposes.

U. S. SAILOR TELLS HOW TO AVOID

BALDNESS—DANDRUFF—GRAY HAIRS

Simple Tonic Applied Yourself About Twice a Week Prevents Itching, Dandruff and Falling Hair

GRAY HAIRS VANISHED ALMOST LIKE MAGIC

"A friend of mine with the U. S. Shipping Board was getting so gray it worried him. His hair was falling out and getting thin, too, but today he hasn't a gray hair and looks splendid and I'll tell you how he did it," declared John W. Haynes, a U. S. Seaman, Unit 23, Lee Hall, Va. "We sent away and got a couple bottles of Lea's Hair Tonic which the women use so much for gray hair and scalp troubles. I wanted it because of falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp, while my friend wanted to put those gray hairs back to their oldtime color. We used it per directions and results were so doggone good we sent for more and still more and today, as I said before, my friend is no longer gray or losing his hair and in my case all dandruff has vanished and I'm relieved of the awful itching. My hair stopped falling out and has thickened up and looks full of life and color, so we both keep a bottle on hand for use once a week and, believe me, everyone with gray hair or scalp trouble should try Lea's Hair Tonic."

Thousands of prominent men and women, despising the awful effect of dyes and such stuff, yet turning gray or bald, have found Lea's Hair Tonic just the very thing. It enhances the beauty of the hair a hundred per cent. Not even experts detect its use and many use it year after year with results always the same. Anyone may prove it easily by applying to a hidden spot a couple weeks and watch results.

If reader wishes to try this harmless, modern scalp treatment on satisfaction guarantee or money back, just buy a bottle at drug store or send dollar bill or stamps to Lea Tonic Co., Brentwood, Md., for a regular bottle, prepaid to your door. You can wait and pay the postman if desired (12 cents extra C.O.D. charges). Money back without quibble or question if it fails to delight you.—(adv.)

Plea To Cement Canada's Amity

Made by Heinz

A plea to cement further the amicable relations that have existed between the United States and Canada for the past 112 years was sounded Tuesday by Henry Heinz, past president of Kiwanis International, as the keynote of an address before the local Kiwanis Club in the Ansley hotel.

As chairman of the United States Canada Week observance for Kiwanis International, Mr. Heinz sketched the conditions that have made it possible for the two countries to have friendly relations for more than a century.

"The boundary line between the two countries is practically meaningless so closely allied are the ideals, aims and interests of the peoples of both countries," Mr. Heinz told the Kiwanians. United States-Canada Week is observed throughout the United States and Canada this week by all Kiwanis clubs who are pledged to furtherance of the peaceful relations of the two countries. Mr. Heinz's address was made to the local club on the occasion of the 112th anniversary of the treaty between the two nations that followed the War of 1812.

Official delegates to the annual convention of Kiwanis International in Atlantic City the latter part of June were elected Tuesday by the local club. Joseph Shaw, president, and Floyd Jennings, secretary, were chosen unanimously as delegates. Gordon Singleton and Roy Morrison were elected alternates.

$800,000 in Checks Mailed to Counties

Checks representing some $800,000 of state funds were in the mails Wednesday night on their way to counties. They were a $500,000 allocation to counties of state highway funds; $230,000 for the public schools; and $20,000 for vocational schools.

Governor L. G. Hardman, who returned Tuesday from a trip to Virginia, at once signed warrants for the payments. Checks were immediately prepared and mailed.

Beavers To Prevent Red May Day Parade

Any May Day demonstrations staged Thursday by communists in the streets or other public places in Atlanta will be dealt with firmly, following the refusal of Mayor Ragsdale to grant a permit for a "red" demonstration, Chief of Police James L. Beavers warned Tuesday.

As long as the communists confine their demonstrations to private property and are orderly, the police will not interfere, Chief Beavers said. But, if the communists create disturbance and violate any of the city ordinances relating to peace and order, we will make arrests," he added.

Chief Beavers expressed confidence that the police force will be able to cope with any situation that arises.

Tom Johnson, district organizer for the communist party, announced, following Mayor Ragsdale's refusal to issue a permit for a demonstration, that "a May Day demonstration will be held."

Greek Association To Install Officers

Officers of the Byron chapter of the G. A. P. A. (Greek-American Progress Association), the first to be formed in Georgia, will be installed at the hall of the Greek church, at 8:30 o'clock tonight with A. Caposullos, of Chicago, grand governor of the Chicago district, in charge of the installation ceremony.

The officers, who were chosen Tuesday night, are J. Sultankis, president; N. Pephani, vice president; A. Panagopoulos, treasurer; D. Papadopoulos, secretary; N. S. Simpiis, G. Alexandropoulos, C. Perpinias, D. Verellas and P. Papachristopoulos, councillors.

The ideals of the association are to promote loyalty and allegiance to the United States to promote better understanding between Greeks and Americans.

Diamond Extradition Is Sought by Illinois

Extradition proceedings brought by the state of Illinois for the return of Jesse Diamond, Jr., held at Valdosta, Tuesday were taken under advisement for a temporary period by Governor L. G. Hardman.

Diamond is charged with operating a confidence game. Joe Frank Allen, state's attorney of Jefferson county, Illinois, appeared at the hearing and contended that Diamond had swindled the Third National Bank of Mount Vernon, Ill., out of several thousand dollars in a confidence game involving the bills of sale of automobiles. R. G. Dickerson, Valdosta attorney, representing Diamond, who was arrested on April 14, contended that the extradition proceedings were an attempt to get Diamond back to Illinois to collect a civil obligation.

T. Hal Smith, sheriff of Jefferson county, Illinois, also was at the capital. He and Mr. Allen left for their homes in the afternoon. The hearing Tuesday was before John B. Wilson, secretary to the governor, who acted for his chief.

J. W. Barnett Plans Tour of Highways

J. W. Barnett, new state highway board chairman, plans to cover every major highway in the state in a series of tours through the summer.

Mr. Barnett returned Tuesday from Chickamauga park, where he inspected the Lafayette spur of the Atlanta-Rome-Chatanooga highway. He was much impressed with the beauty of the north Georgia scenery, stating that it was the first time in some years he had had an opportunity to travel in the northwest section of Georgia.

"I plan to travel every major highway in the state as soon as I can find an opportunity to do so," Mr. Barnett stated. "It will be necessary to fit the trips in whenever I can find time, but within a few months I will have been over all of them. It is the only way to really know the situation."

Melon Rate Revision Dropped Until Fall

The Southern Freight Association will make no further effort to revise freight rates on watermelons this season, according to information received at the office of the Tennessee state commissioner of agriculture.

"While the carriers are convinced that a revision of melon rates is necessary, they have not yet decided to make the change this season," J. W. Tiftord, chairman of the association, wrote Mr. Talmadge. "The matter will have further consideration, and it is hoped that a revised tariff may be published in the early fall in order to enable all interested to have ample notice of the new rates prior to the season."

$1,000 IN CASH PRIZES FOR THE H

Reproduced, on these two pages are four auction bridge hands; the top is SOUTH or Dealer; the second, WEST; the third, NORTH, and the fourth, EAST. The play is to be at regular auction bridge. Dealer bids . . . others in rotation. This is the second of a series of twelve bridge hands, being offered to readers of The Atlanta Constitution, a different hand appearing in this newspaper each Wednesday for twelve weeks. To the contestants making the highest scores in the twelve games played, $1,000 in CASH prizes will be awarded. Please read these rules carefully so that no misunderstanding will ensue.

1—Hands are to be played with ordinary playing cards. The auction bridge hands reproduced above are merely to denote hands to be used by the players.

2—In bidding, there is to be no doubling. A revoke disqualifies the hand.

3—Special Tally sheets are to be used in keeping scores, and these tally sheets are issued FREE to contestants and can be secured only from the firms co-operating in this contest. There are no obligations of any kind and contestants can secure tally sheets simply for the asking. A different tally sheet is to be used each week. Go to any of the 55 firms represented on these two pages, and they will be pleased to give you a tally sheet for the week games are to be played. Get your tally sheet from a different firm each week—get acquainted with all of the advertisers on these two pages.

4—Write neatly and concisely just how you played your hand. This is very important. Prizes will be awarded for individual effort. Submission of answers identical in their description of the manner of play will be considered sufficient evidence of collusion and result in the elimination of any such answers from further consideration. There is a special place for writing the outline of play on the Tally Sheet.

5—The following is a list of prizes to be offered winners making the highest scores and offering the clearest explanation of play in this Auction Bridge Contest:

6—IMPORTANT NOTICE! Should any contestant winning a prize, accompany the tally sheets with sales receipts, showing that purchases were made from at least 12 of the advertisers co-operating in this contest during the time this contest is on, the PRIZES ARE DOUBLED. For example:—Should contestant be adjudged winner of First Prize of $250.00 and sales receipts from at least twelve different co-operating firms accompany the tally sheets, the prize awarded will be $500.00; the Second Prize will be $200.00 instead of $100.00; the Third Prize $100.00 instead of $50.00 and so on.

7—Do NOT send in single tally sheets... wait until you have all twelve, then wrap neatly, and bring, send or mail to The Atlanta Constitution, addressed to the BRIDGE CONTEST EDITOR.

8—Selection of winners will be made by Mrs. Annie Adair Foster, Atlanta's great bridge expert, and her decision on all points shall be considered final. If the explanation of play indicates that little or no attempt was made by adversaries to play their hands with ordinary skill and that as a result of such playing an abnormal score resulted, such score shall not be credited to the contestant. The best defense available must be used.

9—Readers of The Atlanta Constitution are urged to scan closely every advertisement appearing on these two pages. Each announcement is a superior value or offering and will profit the reader greatly. Do not overlook a single announcement, but read them all. And remember—when you make a purchase at any of the shops co-operating in this contest, ask for sales receipts, and send them in with your Bridge Scores, thus qualifying for a double prize. The Bridge Editor of The Atlanta Constitution will be pleased to give contestants any additional information regarding the contest, at any time. Improve your Bridge by entering this contest now.

10—It is not too late to get started in the contest. Details of the bridge hand published last week together with tally sheets for Game No. 1 are available at the office of The Constitution. Get started now and win your share of the big cash prizes.

Big Extra Credit Offer Will End Saturday Night

Candidates in Constitution Campaign Urged to Secure All New Subscriptions Possible.

The offer of 90,000 and 45,000 extra credits in the Atlanta Constitution's $25,000 prize campaign ends at 9 p. m. Saturday. All contestants intending to turn in subscriptions personally are cautioned to be inside the office of the campaign department by the closing hour of the offer.

Candidates living outside of Atlanta have the same length of time to work on the offer, for all new subscriptions in letters bearing the postmark of not later than 9 p. m. May 3, will apply on the offer.

Make every hour count from now until 9 p. m. Saturday. Credits obtained on the extra offer may be the means of winning one of the big awards to be given at the close of the campaign. Never again will new subscriptions be worth so many extra credits as they will be during this period.

With three goals to strive for: 90,000 and 45,000 extra credits on new $30 subscription clubs—The $10,750 Graham sedan, special merit prize.

And the awards to be given at the close of the campaign.

Candidates in The Atlanta Constitution's $25,000 prize campaign are proceeding with all their might to make the best possible showing by 9 p. m. Saturday. That is the closing hour of the biggest remaining special credit opportunity of the campaign. Most candidates realize that this credit offer opens the way to run up a large credit score that will go a long way in determining the winners of the many prizes to be given at the close of the campaign May 31, and are active in securing every new subscription possible before the offer ends. All new subscriptions turned in during this extra credit offer will also count in the $10,750 Graham sedan (special merit prize) offer which ends May 24.

A bonus of 90,000 extra credits will be given for every $30 worth of new prepaid subscriptions and 45,000 extra credits will be given for every $30 worth of new contract subscriptions turned in during the two weeks' period ending Saturday night. This is the GREATEST remaining extra credit offer of the campaign.

There is still plenty of time to enter the campaign and win. In several of the districts the situation is such that an energetic man or woman entering the campaign now could gather before the end of the campaign the credits that would mean a prize on May 3. An automobile and two radios are bound to be awarded in each of the 10 campaign districts—and certain automobiles are sure to be distributed in the two divisions made up of these districts—while any of the grand prizes can be won in any district. Hence, the opportunity to step in now, where competition is weak, should not be overlooked.

Miss Eargle and Miss Adcock are taking advantage of the present offer, whereby extra credits are given for subscriptions turned in by May 3 and at the same time they are both trying for the extra car award to be made May 24.

Dinner-Dance Given For Grady Nurses

The alumni association of the Grady Hospital School of Nursing gave a dinner-dance at the Atlanta Woman's Club Tuesday night, complimenting the 26 members of the 1930 graduating class. Talks were made by A. Steve Johnston, superintendent of the hospital; Miss Annie Bess Feebeck, superintendent of nurses, and Dr. Jesse York, chief resident physician. Miss Ruth Holmes presided. About 90 people attended. Miss Lillian Holliday is president of the class.

LOCAL RETAIL TRADE LEADS DIXIE IN MARCH

General Increase in Business Reported Over Earlier Month.

Retail trade in Atlanta for the month of March showed an increase of 33.1 per cent over its nearest competing city in the sixth district, although reflecting a slight decrease over the basic average, according to the monthly review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.

A general increase in business in the sixth federal reserve district for March over earlier months of the year was reported Tuesday in the monthly review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.

"Business statistics for March," the review said, "show increases over earlier months of the year in the volume of retail and wholesale distribution of merchandise, in prospective building and construction activity as indicated by both permits issued at reporting cities and statistics of contracts awarded in the district, in output of reporting cotton cloth and yarn mills, and in the production of pig iron in Alabama."

The review said that retail trade during March increased 12.3 per cent over February, but that this gain is much less than usual at this time of the year, due partly, perhaps, to the fact that Easter was three weeks later this year than last. Department store sales averaged 121 per cent less than in March last year.

"Wholesale trade increased in March over the preceding month for the first time since November, but averaged 6.2 per cent less than in March, 1929. Failures in the district increased both in number and liabilities over February and over March last year. Building permits issued at 20 reporting cities increased 95 per cent in March over February, and contracts awarded in the district as a whole increased 7 per cent, but both building permits and contract awards averaged about 18 per cent less than for March, 1929."

Atlanta, the only city in the district to show building permits in excess of $2,000,000 for the month, showed a 10.4 per cent increase in building over March, 1929. March showed an increase of 530.4 per cent, and reported permits amounting to $249,217 for the month. Other cities reporting increases included Chattanooga, Tenn., 127.3 per cent; Johnson City, Tenn., 96.5 per cent; Knoxville, Tenn., 23.2; Tampa, Fla., 17.1; Alexandria, La., 14.5; Columbus, Ga., 33.8; Lakeland, Fla., with permits for the month of $4,225, showed an increase of 750 per cent over March, 1929, when permits amounted to $580.

Increases in savings deposits, consumption of cotton, production of cotton cloth and yarn and in naval stores receipts during March, as compared with February, were reported.

Another Clear Day Predicted By Weatherman

Another fair day, with the thermometer hovering around 78 in the afternoon, but with rain or showers probable tonight, was the prospect afforded Atlanta today by C. F. von Herrmann, head of the local branch of the United States weather bureau, in his forecast issued Tuesday. The approximate range of temperatures, Mr. von Herrmann said, will be between 60 and 75 degrees, the same as Tuesday.

Crescent Limited Makes Good Record

The Crescent Limited, leader of the Southern Railway system's fleet of fine passenger trains between Atlanta and the east, has just completed a remarkable five-year record for punctuality, according to the following figures, announced Tuesday by Assistant General Passenger Agent J. C. Beam:

During the five years since April 26, 1928, when it was placed on its present schedule, the Crescent Limited has reached Atlanta on time southbound on 1,793 days out of 1,826 trips, being late only 33 times, and has reached Washington on time northbound on 1,751 days, being late only 75 times.

The Crescent Limited is operated between New York and New Orleans by way of Washington, Atlanta, Montgomery and Mobile and is the successor of the pioneer through train operated over this route, the Washington and Southwestern Vestibuled Limited, the first all-year train with vestibuled equipment and dining car service operated in the south, which for years was popularly known as The Vestibule.

Miniature Received For Memorial Home

The first of a collection of miniatures designed to include all of Georgia's great, and to be a unique addition to the Rhodes Memorial Home has been received by Miss Ruth Blair, director of the state department of archives and history.

It is of Mrs. H. H. Tift, of Tifton, Ga., after whom the Bessie Tift college was named. Miss Blair said that 100 miniatures of prominent Georgians had been asked for. The list includes the living governors, their wives, senators and other prominent citizens.

Deadline for Tax Returns Is Nearing

Long lines of taxpayers formed Tuesday at the office of Edwin F. Johnson, county tax receiver, as the deadline for returning property for 1930 taxes drew near. The tax receiver is required to keep the books open only until tonight, but the tax books will be held open for several days more in order to accommodate last minute returns, Mr. Johnson said.

Two Men Indicted On Liquor Charges

Indictments charging Reynold Heater and Tobe Pittman with possession of three gallons of whisky and manufacturing liquor were returned Tuesday by the Fulton county grand jury. The charges grew out of a raid by County Police Lieutenant A. T. Butler and Officers A. A. Stovall and J. O. Casey on April 25.

Weekly Dance Season Opens at Lakewood

Those who enjoy the old-time fiddle tunes and favor the "square dances" will have an opportunity to-night at Lakewood Casino pavilion, when the Dixie string band will give the first of a season's weekly dances at the amusement resort. These affairs, which were popular last year, will be held each Wednesday night of the Lakewood season.

Dr. Ernest Partridge Will Speak Tonight

AT CANDLER FIELD

Mrs. Felix Parsel, of Macon, who, as Miss Janie Howell, of Atlanta, was well known at Candler field, having taken instruction there off and on for several years, Tuesday took her tests for a private pilot's license before Department of Commerce Inspector F. M. Lander. Although the official result of the examination was not made known, the young aviatrix reported, when it was concluded, that she "got by all right." If she did she will become Georgia's second woman license holder. Miss Gladys Poole, of Atlanta, also holding a private license, Mrs. Parsel flew here from Macon with her husband and G. E. Sherwood, Jr., in an OX-5 American Eagle and returned to the middle Georgia city, where Parsel conducts a flight school, as soon as the formalities were concluded.

Lieutenant Nathan Belford Forrest, grandson of the great Confederate general, former Atlanta boy and now living in Memphis, was a member of the 35th pursuit squadron which recently set a new world's altitude record for battle flying during the maneuvers above Mather field, California, by climbing in fighting formation to an elevation of 20,000 feet, reducing the former mark by nearly 100 per cent. Members of the squadron reported, upon their return to terra firma, that frost formed so heavily on their goggles that they were forced to discard them, and that tears froze on their faces in a temperature of 40 degrees below zero. Lieutenant Forrest, who state Airlines; Frank Estill, of Southern Air Transport; Paul Davis, of Davis Airlines; Jimmy Kronsop, of Macon; James T. Williams, Jr., Atlanta private flier, and Bishop Simpson, Candler field mechanic. While a shock cord was employed in launching the ship on its "trial" flights Tuesday, an automobile will be used to pull into the air today, Blevins said Tuesday.

The Candler field base of the Curtis-Wright Flying Service received another new ship for sales demonstration purposes Tuesday in the form of a new OX-5 Curtiss Robin, which was flown here from Charlotte, N. C., by Gus Leazar, base manager at that point. He was accompanied by C. Stenbeck as passenger. Both will return to North Carolina by train.

A new phase in the development of air transportation in Atlanta as well as throughout the country, was marked Tuesday when President Hoover signed the Watres air mail bill, provisions of which give decided stimulus to civil aviation. Basing rates on mileage and space instead of poundage, the act places transportation of airmail under virtually the same system as that applied to railways and ships. Contracts will be let for definite weight spaces per mile, the rate not to exceed $1.25 in any instance, to displace the old system which has been in effect since 1926. It is estimated by the postoffice department that the new method will reduce the cost of carrying the mail from $1.05 to 72 cents a mile, on the average, the saving to be utilized to extend airmail service to parts of the country now unserved.

But probably the most important feature of the bill, at least from the standpoint of Atlanta's development as an all-around aviation center, is a provision for the purchase of space in passenger planes for the carrying of mail to the extent of 25 cubic feet, or 225 pounds, at not more than 40 cents a mile. With few exceptions, passenger-carrying lines have been operating under heavy loss and this provision operates as an indirect subsidy, guaranteeing a successful bidder a set sum for carrying the mail and assisting him to maintain his passenger service.

This particular provision of the bill will enable air mail contract holders at Candler field, who have been on the verge of opening passenger service for a number of months, to get into that field with the assurance of assistance from the government in a material way. With the new bill in effect, it is not being over-optimistic to predict that within a few months regular scheduled passenger service from Atlanta will be available to New York, Chicago, Miami, New Orleans, Dallas, Fort Worth and other Texas points, with connections to other cities all over the country. Air mail operators, anxious to start passenger service, have been holding back, waiting to see what disposition would be made of the Watres measure. Now that it has become a reality we hope they'll wait no longer than is absolutely necessary in putting their plans into operation.

The All-American Flying Derby, a race through the air lanes of three nations, for which American Cirrus Engines, Inc., associate company of Allied Motor Industries, Inc., has posted $25,000 in prize money, is attracting nationwide attention among airplane manufacturers, according to F. R. Maxwell Jr., president of the Cirrus company. Three well-known makes of planes have bought American Cirrus or Eusign engines for installation in ships especially designed for the race over Canada, the United States (through Atlanta) and Mexico, and inquiries have been received, according to Mr. Maxwell, from more than a dozen others.

Companies which are planning to enter the derby and which already have placed orders for motors with American Cirrus Engines, Inc., are the Cessna Aircraft Company, Wichita, Kan., for an Eusign engine; United States Aircraft Company, New Brunswick, N. J., for a Cirrus engine; and Earl Aircraft Corporation, of Los Angeles, Cal., for two Cirrus engines.

New Yorker Plunges 10 Stories to Death

NEW YORK, April 29.—(UN)—Harry Dreakin, 43, stood on the ledge of a tenth-floor window in the Wurlitzer building here today, waved his arms and shouted for five minutes to attract attention, and then plunged to the pavement. Hundreds of pedestrians, attracted by his strange behavior, watched his death leap while two policemen hurried to the tenth floor in an effort to restrain him. He had jumped before they reached the window.

EXHIBITS PILE HIGH AGAINST GOV. KOHLER

State Republican Committee Is Brought Into Ouster Trial.

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., April 29.—(P)—The state republican committee was brought into the ouster trial of Governor Walter J. Kohler today, as prosecution attorneys sought to affirm their contention that the millionaire executive violated the corrupt practices act.

Prosecutor Harold M. Wilkie presented a series of ledgers and vouchers from the Kohler Company manufacturing plant, which he said showed that the company had paid some campaign expenses and later had been repaid by the state committee.

Along with these Wilkie offered voluminous memoranda dealing with the free meals served visitors to the governor's "model village" of Kohler, Wis., during the 1928 primary campaign.

Contrary to the last Saturday session of court Judge Gustave Gehrz ruled out but little of the evidence. Saturday he had barred nearly 75 exhibits and severely criticized the state. He objected to the manner in which proof was adduced for the contention that the Kohler plant was used to help win the nomination.

On one of the "meal" items Wilkie said there was a discrepancy of $200 between the amount charged the governor's three sisters, who finally were billed, and the cost. It was not brought out in whose favor the amount was.

By Wilkie were checks covering traveling expenses of the Kohler band, a company organization, Defense Attorney Harry Thomas objected to creating the impression before the jury that the band always was on a political mission. The judge allowed the examination to go on.

Lindy in First Flight Since Mail Route Jump

COLON, Panama, April 29.—(P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today made his first flight since inaugurating the Caribbean route of the New York-Buenos Aires air mail line on Sunday.

Using an army observation two-seater plane, he took Mrs. James A. Mars, wife of the commandant of France field, for a short flight over the isthmus.

Noted Spanish Flyer Stripped of Honor

MADRID, April 29.—(P)—It was understood in palace circles today that the golden key of the Order of the King's Bedchamber had been retracted from Major Ramon Franco because of alleged republican activities and criticism of the monarchy.

MISSISSIPPI SOLONS SENT NEW ROAD BILL

Measure Carries 1 Cent Reduction in Gasoline Revenue for State.

JACKSON, Miss., April 29.—(P)—While conferees today were striving in vain to compromise conflicting views on how Mississippi is to carry out her $88,000,000 hard surfaced highway program, Governor T. G. Bilbo sent in to the legislature an entirely new plan which differs materially from the Stansel road bill.

The governor proposed: A bond issue of $82,000,000 to be paid out of the gasoline tax and privilege tax funds.

A gasoline tax of 5 cents as at present instead of the 6 cents provided in one of the Stansel measures. An increase of 50 per cent in automobile license taxes, the increase to go to the state.

That the counties get 2 cents, as at present, of the 5-cent gasoline tax; that $1,000,000 of the bond issue be spent in each county, if necessary, for a connected arterial road system.

That the counties retain the privilege tax moneys as at present, except the increase. And that the legislature appoint the three members of the highway commission, rather than the people elect them at the proposed June 24 election. Mississippi is on the eve of unlimited industrial and agricultural progress, the governor said, which will be experienced by assurance of a definite hard surfaced highway program and its immediate start.

Napier, Speer and Neill To Offer for Re-election

Contests Are Expected
for Offices of Attorney-General and President of Senate.

BY FRANCIS W. CLARKE.

Attorney-General George N. Napier, State Treasurer W. J. Speer and W. Cecil Neill, president of the state senate, all announced Tuesday that they would seek re-election to the posts they now hold, practically assuring the probability of warm contests for two of these state offices. No opposition has been rumored to Treasurer Speer and it is not considered probable that there will be, but several members of the legislature have been mentioned in connection with the other two offices.

"B-C" Stops Headaches And Quiets Nerves

When one of those sick, nervous headaches come and you want three-minute relief, go to any drug store or soda fount and ask for a package or dose of "B-C" (10c and 25c packages), the wonderful new preparation of a North Carolina druggist that is guaranteed safe and speedy without depression or bad after effects.

"B-C" relieves any kind of a headache, sciatic, neuralgic or female pain, because it contains several ingredients that function together for the relief of pain, regardless of its origin. The "B-C" formula is one of the most important medical discoveries of recent years, accomplishing in a few minutes what no one drug formula can do under 1 to 3 hours. (adv.)

and Superintendent of Public Buildings Thursday.

Napier to Run. Attorney General Napier let it be known Tuesday that he would issue formal announcement of his candidacy for re-election at an early date, declaring he made the preliminary statement because of many inquiries he was receiving from friends through out the state.

The Marechale Speaks Of the Apostle Peter

Back in the pulpit of the Gospel tabernacle Tuesday night, Mrs. Booth Clibborn gave a character sketch of the Apostle Peter, pointing out that he had one particular trait that seems sadly lacking among church people today, which trait she termed aggressiveness.

Napier Will Attend Washington Meeting

Prince Carol Comes To End Of Rosy Road of Romance

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 29. (P)—The newspaper Cuvantul, published a story today confirming rumors that former Prince Carol, who sacrificed the throne of Rumania for a love affair, had broken off with Mme. Lupescu and is endeavoring to effect a reconciliation with Princess Helen, his former wife.

Acquittal of Divine Leads To Resignation of Bishop

Head of Episcopal Diocese Quits Because Verdict Was Considered Reflection on His Integrity

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 29. (P)—Because he considered the verdict in the ecclesiastical trial of the Rev. Julius A. Velasco, Dayton, Ky., bishop, the Rt. Rev. H. P. Almon Abbott, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Lexington, today announced his resignation.

Mr. Velasco was tried last week on charges of violating a pre-ordination agreement with the standing committee of the diocese, and of using defamatory language to a bishop.

Bishop Abbott, whose relinquishment of the leadership of the diocese does not mean resigning his orders, as retiring bishops are eligible to serve as parish priests, had no public comment to make.

On leaving Christ Church Cathedral he donned golf knickers and an eye shade and went to the golf links.

3 MACON POLICE OFFICERS INDICTED

MACON, Ga., April 29. (P)—Three police officers of Macon, one of them a captain, were indicted by the Bibb county grand jury today on charges growing out of the capture here on January 20 of three men who are said to have escaped from the Moundsville (W. Va.) prison.

Those indicted and charged are: Captain Fred Parsons, who was indicted for battery and using profane language in the presence of a woman.

The indictments were returned after the grand jury questioned M. I. G. Starnes, into whose home the men fled when being chased by police; her children and several neighbors.

According to a story told by Mrs. Starnes, the men, Adron Bias, Dana Bias and Basil Childers, took possession of the Starnes home in an effort to escape pursuing officers.

The assault and battery charges against the men, according to Solicitor Garrett, was "crudely to the prisoners." Some of the officers are alleged to have beaten the prisoners over the head after they had surrendered.

PLANE BRINGS MAIL FROM LINER BREMEN

NEW YORK, April 29. (P)—An airplane catapulted from the North German Lloyd liner Bremen 350 miles at sea landed four bags of mail at the liner's Brooklyn pier today approximately 12 hours before the ship was due to dock.

BLAZE DESTROYS INGERSOLL MANSION

MONTCLAIR, N. J., April 29. (P)—A 40-room mansion, formerly the home of Charles H. Ingersoll, son of the late Robert H. Ingersoll, the dollar watch manufacturer, was virtually destroyed by fire today.

The frame structure until two weeks ago had been used as an inn and was the scene of many fashionable functions given by the wealthy residents whose estates in this section of north Jersey. The Ingersoll family disposed of the place three months ago. The mansion was located on a high bluff amid picturesque surroundings.

WICKERSHAM SEES LAW DISCONTENT

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 29. (P)—George W. Wickersham, chairman of the federal commission on law enforcement and observance, tonight took cognizance of a "general dissatisfaction" with the "uncertainties and complexities of our laws," but declared the dissatisfaction with the laws "perhaps less marked than is discontent with our system of administering justice."

He told the University of Chattanooga's first annual institute of justice that no satisfactory results could be expected from the workings of state judicial systems "in which judges are elected after nomination through popular direct primary."

He deplored the fact that many states have taken away from the trial judge "the right to instruct the jury as to the law and advise them in respect of the facts."

"In many states," he said, "the effect of the laws is to make it practically impossible to secure a jury of intelligent and experienced citizens." Turning to the laws themselves, he said: "It is hardly an exaggeration to state that comparatively few statutes of America states remove uncertainty in the laws, at least until their meaning has been defined by judicial decision; while it is undoubtedly the biennial crop of new laws poured out from all the legislatures in all the states, plus the enactments of the federal congress, greatly add to the uncertainties and complexities of our law and tend to materially weaken respect for law in general on the part of the average citizen."

Atlanta At The Half Million Mark!

JUDGING the future by the past it requires no greatly exaggerated optimism to predict Atlanta's 1940 census figure at half a million.

Every industry, every public service, every bank which expects to keep step with that progress must prepare to render increased service adapted to those larger operations.

The Fulton National Bank, founded to serve small or large business in a most efficient manner is so organized as to meet any normal expansion and yet maintain that friendly, helpful spirit which has contributed so largely to its growth and popularity.

The Protection of Property

for the Comfort of Others

MOST people who acquire property and accumulate estates do so for the ultimate support, security, and comfort of others. But your family and your estate may outlive you—hence provision must be made for conserving, safeguarding, and managing what you leave, if your dependents are to be assured lasting and adequate enjoyment of its benefits. This can best be done by appointing as your executor and trustee a corporate fiduciary—The Trust Company of Georgia.

The Trust Company of Georgia, owned by the shareholders of The First National Bank of Atlanta, is a specialist in all trust and estate matters; its long experience amply equips it to round out the service of the greatest financial institution in the South.

Organized to care for the property of others, it leaves nothing to chance that thoughtful foresight can make certain. It knows the safeguarding of money and property, the means of protection—it thinks in terms of the security, welfare, and happiness of those whose interests the creator of the estate has directed it to serve.

How can this service be applied to the fulfillment of the plans you have in mind with reference to your estate and your family? You'll find the answer in our booklet, "Your Will and What It Should Contain." Will you not ask for a copy?

U. S. STEEL SHOWS

DECREASED INCOME

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP)—The

United States Steel Corporation today reported profit equal to $3.44 per share of common stock for the first quarter of 1930. Total earnings were $40,615,397 compared with $40,105,381 for the same period in 1929.

The report said that the corporation was operating at 80 per cent of rated capacity with the prospect that the plant ratio would be "fairly well maintained" through the second quarter.

Looking further ahead, the finance committee said: "While it is impossible to estimate at the moment as to the third and fourth quarters, the general indications are that there will be a satisfactory volume of business during the last half of the year."

Share earnings were lower than for either the previous quarter or the first quarter in 1929, although above Wall Street's predictions and on a larger scale of production and capitalization.

The $3.44 per share, or $11.33 per share, was compared with $3.44 per share in the first quarter of 1929.

Net profit for the last quarter was $33,811,171, as contrasted with $39,425,358 for the same period of 1929 and $42,155,447 in the first quarter of 1929.

The statement showed that only $1,420,097 was absorbed in interest on bonds of the corporation and its subsidiaries.

Added to profits was an item of $2,396,636 representing the quarterly amortization of interest on the federal government refund announced several weeks ago.

Unfilled orders on March 31 amounted to 4,570,653 tons compared with 4,417,021 on December 31, and 4,410,718 on March 31, 1929.

The corporation reported that quarter shipments to the trade equaled $1,417,021, or 100 per cent of the 1929 level.

The regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 each on common and preferred stock was declared.

and New York Telephone 6s rose half a point, although closing prices were slightly below the top. Industrial dragged.

Trading in foreign bonds was limited to the better grade loans, especially those of the European nations interested in German reparations. An announcement on the terms of Germany's $300,000,000 issue is expected

later in the week. German bonds were fairly active today, although

Atlantans Make Pilgrimage To Virginia's Famous Gardens

More than one hundred of Virginia's Old Dominion gardens of history are being thrown open to the public all this week in order to collect funds for the restoration of Stratford hall, in Westmoreland county, the birthplace of Robert E. Lee, which is being undertaken by the Lee Memorial Association. Stratford is fast becoming a national shrine and the house and garden both will be restored. Richard Henry Lee and Francis Lightfoot Lee, signers of the Declaration of Independence, as well as Robert E. Lee, glorified leader of the southern armies, were born in this picturesque structure on the banks of the Potomac, which was built 200 years ago.

Gardens To Be Restored.

There is no definite information concerning the exact nature of the Stratford Gardens, but they are believed to have been behind the mansion, not far from the river. However, they will be restored with at least a fair degree of fidelity to the original, even though the precise design and location are unknown. Unquestionably there were box borders inclosing beds of roses, hollyhocks, wall flowers, cinnamon-pinks, larkspurs and other varieties of flowers found so often in the old gardens in England and America.

"Those who go to Virginia this week will have the opportunity of visiting not only the site of the gardens, but the house as well. Built in the form of a letter H, it is unique in design with each wing of the structure disclosing something of interest. Nearby are the service buildings, one of which, the kitchen, has a fire place of enormous proportions, which still has some of the original utensils.

The ancestral home of the Lees is one of the many such historic places which are accessible to tourists during Historic Garden Week, which has been arranged by the Virginia Garden Club. On May 4, 5 and 6, the three days following garden week, 40 Maryland gardens and a number of the mansions will be open, also for the benefit of Stratford hall.

Manifestly, it will be impossible for any one to visit all the gardens and homes in the brief space of a week, hence each visitor must make an individual choice of those which seem to embody, in greatest measure, the charm and glamour for which Virginia is famous.

Make Tour.

Prominent Atlantans making this pilgrimage include Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Poe McBurney, who are now guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Carnagy, in Nashville, Tenn., en route to the Virginia Gardens; Mrs. William H. Kiser and Mrs. Phinny Calhoun.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sisson and their niece, Miss Laure Larendon, will leave Saturday to visit and see the gardens. They will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Brandon, the Harrison home on the James. The finely paneled interior of this home is indeed a work of art and the luxuriant garden a profusion of long box-bordered walks, roses, crepe myrtles, wistaria, magnolias, tulips, cowslips and iris. They will also visit Westover, ancestral home of the Byrds; Shirley, which has been in the possession of the Carter family for centuries and still has intact the original silver, portraits and furniture, and Revell, near Richmond. Then they will go to Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, and view Williamsburg, the Colonial capital, closely associated with all the great Virginians of the Revolutionary period, which is now being restored by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., at a tremendous cost.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bulow Campbell and Miss Virginia Campbell will also take advantage of this opportunity to view these historic places, as will Mrs. George Connors, of Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. William T. Henley and Mrs. Robert C. Alston left Monday for a motor trip to the gardens and a trip through the apple orchards which are

Miss Rachel Griggs Wedded in Athens To E. C. Westbrook

ATHENS, Ga., April 29.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Rachel Griggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee Griggs, of Athens, and Edison Collins Westbrook, of Athens, was an impressive event of Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Athens. Rev. E. L. Hill, of the First Presbyterian Church of Athens, performed the ceremony.

Decorations in the home consisted of palms with iris and Madonna lilies. An arrangement of candles added to the beauty of the setting.

The maid of honor was Miss Helen Mason, of Boston, who carried an arm bouquet of pink sweet peas. T. H. Bonner, of Atlanta, acted as best man.

The bride was lovely in a model of white satin, fashioned with princess waist and a draped skirt. She carried bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

During the ceremony Mrs. Hunter Hubbard played appropriate selections and Mrs. Frances White Yow sang.

A reception following the wedding was attended by about 300 Athens people, friends of Mr. and Mrs. Westbrook.

Mrs. Westbrook is the descendant of a long line of distinguished Virginia ancestry. Her father is prominently connected with the University of Georgia, being professor of engineering there for several years.

The bride was educated at Lucy Cobb Institute and at Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Va. She is now connected with the University of Georgia.

Mr. Westbrook is a member of the faculty of the Georgia State College of Agriculture, being tobacco and cotton specialist, a field in which he is known throughout the state.

Mrs. George Street Is President Of the Cherokee Garden Club

Mrs. George Street was elected president of the Cherokee Garden Club at the meeting of that organization which was held at the home of Mrs. William Huger on Valley road yesterday afternoon, the retiring president, Mrs. Charles Orme, presiding. Other officers elected were: Mrs. John Copeland, first vice president; Howell Caldwell, second vice president; J. C. Harris, Jr., recording secretary; Evan Howell, corresponding secretary; and Floyd McKee, Jr., treasurer.

The group of officers comprise the ticket presented by the nominating committee which included Mesdames Joel Hurt, Jr., chairman; Philip Engle, Walter Mallory and Charles Freeman. Decision was made to have an all-day plant sale Friday, May 2, on Peachtree street between Tenth and Eleventh streets, beginning at 9 o'clock. Among the plants which will be sold are English primrose, yellow carnations, stocks, yellow roses, lavender sininus and ranunculus. It was decided that the annual flower show of the club will be held at the Piedmont Driving Club probably in May.

Mrs. Rambo and Mrs. Stephens Are Selected for Adelphian

Mrs. R. K. Rambo and Mrs. Robert Stephens, prominent Atlanta women, have been selected by the Atlanta Alumnae Club of Alpha Delta Pi as the Atlanta representatives of that society who will be in charge of the Adelphian, the quarterly national publication of the sorority. Both Mrs. Rambo and Mrs. Stephens are members of the first chapter of Alpha Delta Pi which was founded at Wesleyan as the Adelphian Society in 1851. Both have been active in the club and civic life of the city.

Mrs. Rambo is the second vice president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs in charge of programs; a past president of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs; and the only woman member of the city bond commission delegated to handle the disbursement of the $5,000,000 fund voted several years ago. Mrs. Rambo has held office in the U. D. C. and D. A. R. She is president of the W. M. S. of the First Methodist church and is a vice regent of the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R. Mrs. Stephens, who is the daughter of General Clement Evans, brigadier general of the Confederate forces and commander-in-chief of the United Confederate veterans, is actively identified with civic and patriotic enterprises. She is a trustee of Wesleyan College and has been president of the Atlanta Wesleyan Alumnae Club for the past three years. She is first vice president of the Atlanta Ladies' Memorial Association, a former member of the board of lady visitors of the Atlanta board of education, and has held state and local offices in the U. D. C. Mrs. Stephens is a sister of Lawton Evans, of Augusta, noted educator.

Miss McKoy and Mr. Transou Wed at High Noon Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Nellie Bob McKoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. McKoy, to Charles Bowie Transou, was beautifully solemnized at high noon yesterday at St. Luke's Episcopal church. The Rev. N. R. High Moor, rector of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of an assemblage of friends and relatives of the two families.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Masses of palms and ferns, interspersed with tall baskets of Easter lilies, were banded around the altar, on which in seven-branched candelabra burned short white tapers. At each end of the altar step, where the ceremony was performed, stood tall seven-branched candelabra, in which burned tall white candles shedding a soft glow over the entire church. The pews were the families of the bride and groom sat were marked with clusters of Easter lilies tied with white satin ribbon.

Musical Program. Proceeding the ceremony Miss Mabelle Hyton rendered a program of beautiful music, the selections including "Prayer" by Lanier, "Orange Blossoms" by Primi, "Pastorale" by Wachs, "Meditation" by Gault, "Andantino" by Rattis. The wedding party entered to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin and as a recessional Miss Horton played Mendelssohn's wedding march. During the ceremony the organist played soft nuptial music.

First to enter were the ushers, Irwin McKoy and Adam Transou and Dean McKoy and John Transou. Mrs. James Butler, the sister of the bride, who acted as matron-of-honor, entered, followed by the bride's only attendant. Her gown was of angel chiffon with cream lace yoke, featuring the princess style with long, uneven hem line, and a tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and a corsage of pink roses. The bride wore a king's blue moire Etou suit with tan crepe blouse. Her hat was a smart model of blue Bakin straw. Upon their return they will be at home at 18 Avery drive.

TOMORROW MARKS OPENING OF 1930 GRAND OPERA SEASON

Biltmore Opera Program Features Brilliant Events

Tomorrow will inaugurate three of the gayest days of the spring season in Atlanta society, being the opening day of grand opera. Chaperon's "Louise" will be sung in French by the Metropolitan Opera Company Thursday evening at the auditorium and nothing all over the civilized world is more fashionable and cultural than grand opera. Nothing attracts smarter assemblages, and nearly every box has been taken, not to mention the brilliant audience that will fill the arena and other places of vantage. There will be in consequence a great deal of entertaining at private homes, at all the social clubs and at the hotels.

Biltmore Program

The Atlanta Biltmore hotel will be a gay and popular rendezvous during the opera season for in the luxurious lounge and on the flower-bordered terrace opera stars and visitors will mingle with Atlanta society each day. Among the most brilliant functions planned by the Biltmore is the supper-dance Friday evening following the opera, "Il Trovatore," the dance to continue until 2 a. m. Several hundred reservations have been made for this occasion. Mrs. Anne Bates Walsh will entertain in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Westbrook Daniel, who have recently moved to Atlanta from Pittsburgh, and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, Jr. The guest list includes Mr. and Mrs. Franklin S. Chalmers, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Snow, Dr. and Mrs. Charles P. Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Seydell, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Lowmery, Dr. and Mrs. George A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Livingston, Arthur Anderson and Howard C. Smith. M. E. Olson will entertain Miss Bella Raines and William Lehmann, of Atlanta, and Miss Edith Moore, of Rome. Mr. and Mrs. J. Elsas Phillips will have as their guests Miss Lorna Fried, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hirsch and Richard Rich, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McKee, of Columbus, will entertain a group of Atlanta friends. Mr. and Mrs. Vol T. Blackhall will have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. A. Schwartz. A. J. Goodwin, of Anniston, will entertain a party of six.

Tea-Dance Saturday

Another gay event featuring the Biltmore's opera program is the tea-dance for Saturday afternoon, this event to follow the opera matinee, "La Boheme." Leonard White, late of the Metropolitan opera ballet, will entertain at the tea-dance with an exhibition of his dancing pupils. The tea-dance will be held on the terrace overlooking the Biltmore gardens, if weather permits.

James Dasher, Jr., will have a party of four at the tea-dance. Mrs. C. H. Mayfair will have as her guests at the tea-dance Miss Elizabeth Stickney, Miss Virginia Dillon, Welborn Hote and Claud, William and Robert McCullough and Paul and Jerry Goldsmith.

The Biltmore opera functions have become an accepted part of the opera season, adding much to the gaiety through the presence of the opera stars, who often vie with each other in singing bits of popular songs under the carterade of the occasion.

Attendance at both functions will be limited to the capacity of the location, the management has announced, thus assuring ample dancing space. Music will be furnished by the Biltmoreans.

Additional reservations should be placed to Mr. Himmel, Hemlock 5200.

Columbus Visitors

Columbus will be well represented by a group of prominent members of society by Mrs. William De Launay.

Worsley, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Knight, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Everett Strupper, Sr., Miss Evelyn Knight, Mrs. J. Homer Dimon, Mrs. John H. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Harris and Mrs. Marie Bond.

Metropolitan Orchestra Will Be Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Maya Badgett will entertain members of the Metropolitan orchestra Friday night at their home at 11 Highland View, following the presentation of the opera "Il Trovatore." Mr. Badgett, beloved Atlanta musician, has been host to members of the orchestra during the Atlanta opera season for the past eight years and this annual affair is always eagerly anticipated.

Mrs. A. O. Woodward Honors Mrs. Akerman

'Devil's Disciple' To Be Produced At Studio Club

The Little Theater of the Studio Club will offer as its third major production the season, "The Devil's Disciple," by George Bernard Shaw. Friday and Saturday, May 9-10, in the theater of the club at 104 1-2 Forsyth street. The play has been in rehearsal for two months, and the production will reach the high water mark of the dramatic work of the club up to date. "The Devil's Disciple" is under the direction of Janet Mills Shepherd, well-known Atlanta director, whose skill in production is attested by the success of such plays as "Aren't We All?" by Lonsdale; "Outward Bound," by Vane, and "The Swan by Molnar." The most ambitious work yet attempted by this organization, in costume and setting, as well as in interpretation. The time of the play is 1777, and the action centers around the American Revolution. The drama is typically Shawian in dialogue, and exceptionally full of action. The five different sets required are being designed by J. M. B. Hossey, Jr., whose artistic work in stage settings is well-known. Authentic period costumes are being ordered from Baltimore.

The cast is composed of some of the best talent in Atlanta, all the actors having appeared frequently before local audiences, including Louis Nuckolls, Miss Ernestine Hornady, Nesdams Florence Brine, Richard T. Morens, Pendleton Mitchell, Sam Wood, Matt Jorgenson, Kemp Mayhew, Griff Edwards, and others. Mrs. Catherine H. Connerst is handling the sale of tickets, and she reports that the demand for tickets is unprecedented. Those interested are advised to buy tickets in advance. Mrs. Connerst can be reached at Hemlock 2915.

Mrs. A. R. Wagar Honors Daughter

Little Miss Anne Wagar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Wagar, celebrated her seventh birthday yesterday with a party Monday afternoon at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Mell K. Wilkinson, on Peachtree road. Games were played on the lawn and much amusement was furnished the tiny tots by the menagerie hunt, in which animals, real and stuffed, were hidden about the shrubbery and flowers in the garden. A prize was given the one finding the most animals. Ties were casted with bowls of roses and the favors were balloons and paper caps.

The little hostess greeted her guests in a room of white organic apricot in green flowers and trimmed with green ribbon. She wore a tiny shoulder corsage.

Southeastern Polo Tournament To Be Held at Fort McPherson

FORT MCPHERSON, April 29.—The month of May promises to be a gay one in army circles with teas, informal supper parties and luncheons centering interest. The Officers' Club has a series of enjoyable affairs planned for the coming month and a number of private parties will be given by members of the garrison.

Friday evening, May 2, there will be an evening bridge party at the Officers' Club while the following Friday, May 9, there will be a hop with the club as hosts. Sunday afternoon, May 11, the club will sponsor a polo game between the Governor's Horse Guards and the Fort McPherson squad.

The two following Friday evenings, May 16 and May 23, there will be evening bridge parties given by the club.

Sunday afternoon, May 25, the inter-circuit southeastern polo tournament will have its opening game at the post followed by a tea at the Officers' Club. The next event in honor of the visiting teams will be the polo hop to take place at the Officers' Club Friday evening, May 30. Prior to the hop there will be a number of dinner parties given by members of the garrison.

Informal Parties. Captain William Sharp and Mrs. Sharp will entertain Saturday evening, May 3, at a box party at the Erlanger theater, preceded by an informal supper at their quarters in the post.

The guests will include Brigadier-General George H. Estes and Mrs. Estes, Major Harvard C. Moore and Mrs. Moore, Captain John R. Dinsmore and Mrs. Dinsmore, Captain Thomas H. Ramsey and Mrs. Ramsey and Lieutenant Walter Scott Winn and Mrs. Winn.

Saturday evening, May 10, Captain Sharp and Mrs. Sharp will entertain at a second of a series of parties at a dinner-dance at Cascade terrace, including in their list 17 members of the garrison. Covers will be placed for Major Roland Gaugler and Mrs. Gaugler, Major Carl H. Seals and Mrs. Seals, Captain Druid

E. Wheeler and Mrs. Wheeler, Captain Charles Brice and Mrs. Brice, Lieutenant Walter Scott Winn and Mrs. Winn, Lieutenant J. C. Grable and Mrs. Grable, Lieutenant J. L. Wilson, Lieutenant Charles Lidey, Lieutenant Alfred Morgan and Captain Sharp and Mrs. Sharp.

Bridge Dinner. Friday evening, May 2, Captain Charles Brice and Mrs. Brice will be hosts at a bridge dinner at their quarters in the post. Covers will be placed for Colonel George L. McKeedy and Mrs. McKeedy, Captain John R. Dinsmore and Mrs. Dinsmore, Captain Thomas H. Ramsey and Mrs. Ramsey, Captain William Sharp and Mrs. Sharp.

Saturday evening, Captain Brice and Mrs. Brice will entertain at a second of a series of bridge dinners. Their guests will include Major J. Vincent Falsi and Mrs. Falsi, Mrs. J. Kirkwood Tannah, of Little Rock, Ark.; Captain Druid E. Wheeler and Mrs. Wheeler, and Captain Lowell W. Rooks and Mrs. Rooks.

Major J. Vincent Falsi and Mrs. Falsi will return Wednesday after an enjoyable trip of several weeks. Major Falsi and Mrs. Falsi will be accompanied home by Miss Genna Ganster, of Baltimore, Md., who will be their guest.

Is YOUR Skin Dry, Oily or Normal?

If your skin is oily—try Plough's "Incense of Flowers" Face Powder in the oval box. Heavy in texture, this face powder will not cake or streak as ordinary powders do. Specially blended for your type of skin, it applies evenly, clings smoothly for hours and lends new beauty to your complexion.

If your skin is normal—Plough's "Exquisite" Face Powder in the round box will delight you with its medium and perfectly balanced texture. Marvelously soft and smooth, this face powder adheres without constant repowdering, keeps the skin fresh and smooth and enhances natural complexion beauty. Each size is available in five modern tints, sensibly priced at 30c, 50c and 75c.

If your skin is dry—here is a face powder that soothes instead of irritating, that applies smoothly instead of "streaking"—Plough's "Favorite Bouquet" Face Powder in the square box. Extremely light in texture, it adheres lastingly, keeps the skin soft and fine-textured and enhances the beauty of your complexion.

Do Women Suffer More Than Men?

Physicians tell us that the nervous system of woman is more highly organized, more delicately poised, and therefore more sensitive to disturbances and susceptible to pain than that of men.

Women especially appreciate and profit by the use of Capidine, because it quickly relieves high nerve tension and pain by soothing the nerves—not by deadening them. For nervous headache, periodic pains, pains in the back and sides, neuralgia and rheumatic pains, nothing is so quickly effective and satisfactory as Capidine. Being liquid it acts much quicker than tablets and powders. Contains no opiates and does not upset the stomach, therefore is the ideal remedy.

Every home should be supplied with Capidine. It brings grateful relief from nerve strain and pain, and affords peaceful relaxation in just a few minutes. At drug stores in 30c and 60c sizes.—(adv.)

Forty-Third Installment.

John Wilberforce Wright, now almost certainly future governor, had been compelled, by political affairs, to leave New York. He was covered by a battalion of detectives. Peter Champion and Page Sutton were his most influential backers. The zones were out to defeat Wright. Peter Champion's country home was a good deal like a beleaguered fortress.

The brains controlling defensive measures against the most formidable criminal organization in history were gathered in the house. Armored planes, adjacent, were in readiness to take the air. Three military searchlights had been placed at selected points in case of a night attack by air units—operating from their so-far untraceable base. The grounds were patrolled day and night. The immediate neighborhood was, all intents and purposes, under martial law.

Such was the menace of the zones. It was felt that anything might happen. Drake Roscoe destroyed every inch of New York city. And so the staff headquarters had been moved outside suspected areas.

And now, Stouford, having regained control of himself, turned to Ned W. Regan. At this phase of the campaign against Great Head Centre, they had assumed definite duties. The famous investigator was responsible for policing the grounds of the house. The job was entirely in the hands of members of his vast staff.

"I put it to you, Regan," Stouford said. "You've examined every square inch of the place, inside and out. It bristles with blokes trained to hear a mouse breathe—yet a member of the party goes for a stroll—and does not come back!"

"She hasn't passed the gates," Daly assured him. "My men would challenge a fly!"

Burke's police were responsible for covering the house. Daly was in charge.

"It's still daylight," said Peter Champion, addressing Regan. "She was seen by your man, Stevens, going down to the cardinal's garden." "The other man," Stouford broke in, "what's his name, on duty at end of said garden, reports she didn't come out that way! What's the answer?"

"There's no clue in the garden," Drake Roscoe assured him gravely. "You were with us, Stoupy, when we examined it."

Madame Czerna, ex-victim of the zones, and Stouford's wife to be, had vanished, unaccountably, magically, from their midst!

In the white-domed room the Duchesse de Greuze was seated. She extended her hand. A slender finger touched a button on a keyboard. In the lacquer cabinet a red light sprang to life.

"G. H. Q.," said a guttural voice. "Report," the duchesse directed, "of Divisional Chief B."

"To hand," Divisional Chief B, in personal charge of party covering Champion home, reports that area is divided as follows: House and grounds patrolled by men under Ned W. Regan; from outside by police under Deputy Commissioner Burke—Police Captain Daly in charge. Air squad units located as follows: Two planes at Seeger's farm, one at Beach meadow. Military anti-aircraft parties with lights, no guns, at three points not yet identified. Timed 6:30. Report ends."

"Report of Zone Officer 2-C." To hand. Zone Officer 2-C reports that, operating from cutting under Champion home, Group Master 1, Zone X, carried out instructions re Ex-Zone Officer Czerna. Standing by. Timed 6:40. Report ends."

A moment of silence followed, and then:

"Report," the duchesse directed, "of group master inside Champion home." To hand. Entire staff given a week's vacation. Employees of Ned W. Regan have replaced. Standing by at station. This report timed 5 p. m. "It should have been transmitted immediately," the cold voice replied. "This is negligence. Connect Staff Officer 3."

A further interval of silence, until "Staff 3," came in suave, modulated tones.

"Take over," the woman ordered. "Staff Officer 2 is to stand by pending inquiry. An order is coming." Further silence. Then:

Instruct all divisional chiefs to stand by. Rotating agency routing the duchesse ordered. "This order cancels all foregoing. Zone officer 2 is to concentrate upon the niece of Deputy Commissioner Burke. This is urgent. Ex-Zone Officer Czerna is to be brought to G. H. Q. at once. Move."

The red light in the lacquer cabinet went out. . . . "Manhattan is honeycombed with caverns," said Drake Roscoe. "So much I know. Why not Long Island as well?"

There was an awkward silence. Since the fire at the Bronson home, from which Roscoe had been rescued, opinion had been much divided on the subject of the extraordinary story he had had to tell. Regan more or less frankly admitted he didn't believe it. He put it down to delirium.

The idea that the city, universally supposed to rest upon solid rock, actually stood on the roof of a vast series of caves, was too unpleasant to bear thinking about. But one point in the story Regan was disposed to accept, unconditionally—that Lewis Bronson was Head Centre. It was a theory he had held for some time. He welcomed confirmation.

"How does it help us, any way?" Burke asked.

"It may not help us," Roscoe replied. "But it might explain Madame Czerna's disappearance."

"Gad!" cried Stouford—"got you. Got you, old scout!"

"I'm hazy on one point," Page Sutton broke in. "If Head Centre is dead—and you seem to think he is, Roscoe—why are the Zones still active? And what have they got to gain, now anyway, from kidnapping Madame Czerna?"

Drake Roscoe stared hard at the speaker, then:

"This," he said, "they can tie our hands. Head Centre has gone, or so I believe, but Great Head Centre remains. Only I know the identity of Great Head Centre. I haven't shared the secret with anybody, yet. If I had it would have been with the five people here in this room. If we six could be silenced. . . ."

"I've been in some danger spots in my life," Peter Champion said to Page Sutton. "But none of us was ever nearer sudden death than we are tonight right here in my own home."

Following a short interval:

"With Roscoe's theory in view," said Stouford evenly, "what if we were another once-over to the Cardinal's garden?"

His suggestion was immediately acted upon. A party was in motion in the circumstances. And presently in the early dusk a party set out to investigate, again, the apparently insoluble problem of Madame Czerna's disappearance.

Page Sutton and Peter Champion remained behind. Regan, Burke, Roscoe and Stouford formed the quartet which made for the scene of the mystery. Stouford's acceptance of the situation was heroic. As they walked through the dusk away from the house, Roscoe glanced aside at his friend—who had lost the woman he loved and who knew, too well, in what peril she must be at this moment. For Madame Czerna's disappearance could mean only one thing: the Zones.

Robins Set Record as Major League Clubs Experience Wild Day

CRACKERS BEAT BEARS IN 11 INNINGS, 6 TO 3

BROOKLYN SETS MAJOR RECORD IN WILD GAME

Big Leagues Experience Some Weird Baseball; Hurlers Suffer.

By George Kirksey.

United News Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, April 29.—(UN)—

World happenings featured Tuesday's major league games, with 123 runs and 181 hits in the seven games played.

Thirty-nine pitchers saw action in the seven games, with eight hurlers

taking part in each of the Yankee-Senators game at Washington and the

Giants-Robins game at New York, and seven participating in the Cubs-Pirates game at Chicago.

Some of the wildest scoring in years took place in the three National league games, with Brooklyn rolling up 19 runs, including a 11-run rally in the second inning, against the Giants.

The Giants themselves scored nine runs in the third inning. The Phillies amassed eight runs in one inning and the Pirates had a 7-run rally.

SCORING BEE.

In the American league, Washington put on a scoring spree against the Yankees to wipe up a 7-run handicap and tie the score with 7 runs in the third inning.

Brooklyn's big inning came within three runs of the modern major league record of 14 runs in one inning, held jointly by the New York

Yankees (1920) and the Chicago Cubs

(1922). The Robins got one run when every Brooklyn player scored a run, made a hit and drove in a run during the 11-run avalanche.

Pittsburgh's late rally enabled the Pirates to come from behind and beat the Cubs at Chicago, 13 to 9, and take the National League lead from the Giants.

BELL'S HOME AIDS.

Lester Bell's home run with the bases loaded helped the Cubs get away to a 6-run lead, but the Pirates staged their 7-run rally to overtake the National League champions in the sixth inning.

Through 11 hours and 10 minutes of some of the worst baseball seen in the majors in years, the Robins and Giants amused a crowd of 15,000 at the Polo Grounds with their antics.

At one time the Robins had a 14-run lead, only to have it melt until the

Giants were on the verge of overtaking them. Brooklyn hung 19 to 15.

After seven innings of scoreless

baseball at Philadelphia, the Phillies exploded hits all over Baker Bowl to drive Bob Seaver, the pitcher, out and score 8 runs in the eighth inning.

The Phillies won, 8 to 2.

EIGHT STRAIGHT.

Washington's eighth straight victory—longest winning streak of the season—by beating the

New York Yankees, 11 to 8. Babe

Ruth hit three doubles, walked once and fanned once.

Red Faber was the only American league pitcher to go the route, pitching

the Chicago White Sox to an 8-6 victory over Detroit, although struck out 14 hits.

Al Simmons and Mickey Cochrane

made four hits apiece, but the Phils

split Athletics beat the Boston Red

Sox, 9 to 5.

Charley Jamieson, veteran Cleveland

outfielder, had a perfect day at bat—three hits in three times up—as Melpomene frowns on this desk. Any moment now this department may be violently discontinued.

Figuratively, the author is hanging over the edge of a precipice holding to a dandelion—and dandelions wither so quickly.

Briefly, this division is in a jam with Bill Fincher, the man who doubles for "Stumpy" Thomson's bear at Tech Flats.

This letter from Bill explains matters:

"I see in your story on the night track meet, which was not much of a story if you ask me, that you spoke of 'Bill Fincher's mellifluous voice' announcing events over the loud speaker.

"Now I never heard that word 'mellifluous' but if it means what I think it does, I will not be the only one that will feel hurt, if you get me.—As usual—W. E. Fincher."

Lemme hasten to say that the word "mellifluous" was used in an effort to be refined.

The word, as every schoolboy knows, means "mouth full of watermelon." That was the nearest word I could think of to describe the fluid tones of Bill Fincher over the loud speaker.

Of course, everybody knows watermelons are not in season and besides Bill would not be chewing watermelon anyhow.

But how else could I describe the quality of the tone without mentioning Bill's favorite brand, which by the way is not advertised in Atlanta newspapers.

This explanation I hope will be sufficient. If not—see you later.

BLAME IT ON THE REPUBLICANS.

A Charlton county grand jury has advised that baseball be banned from the county high school. School heads have acted accordingly and have added a penalty on students for even attending any baseball game under certain conditions.

And still they wonder why so many folks are moving to town!!!

The matter has been referred to the committee on farm relief.

ONE FOR THE BOOK.

Of all the tales told by rookies who did not catch on with a major league club, the yarn brought back by Vic Frazier, a Texas leaguer, about his experiences in the White Sox camp takes the sandpaper sweater. The Houston Chronicle reports Vic's statement as follows:

"When I joined the White Sox in San Antonio this spring, I was all mucked out in a new $60 suit of clothes, and to my way of thinking, I looked pretty nifty. The first thing that Donie Bush said to me was, 'Now, look here, kid, you're in the major leagues now and you'll have to start dressing up. You look like a rube in that suit of clothes.'"

"That soured me on Bush and the White Sox and major leagues right off the bat, and I decided to go home, where a $60 suit of clothes is an event, like Christmas or something. If Bush thinks more of my clothes than he does of my pitching arm, that's his trouble, not mine."

If unturf it is worth passing on as a grand alibi for any Southern league ball players who have to explain it all to the folks at home.

If true—it is a startling commentary on what baseball is coming to.

Just if a sample of the modern baseball mind then there are just a lot of tomboys playing the game today.

Fulton defeated Marist, 11 to 3, to gain undisputed possession of second place in the league standing. Russell beat Commercial, 10 to 7; Boys' High beat Commercial, 8 to 2, and Decatur won from G. M. A., 5 to 4, in eleven innings at Decatur.

With Norton pitching steadily, particularly in the pinches, Fulton easily defeated Marist, 11 to 3, at Piedmont park. Norton gave the Beamen only two hits and struck out 17 Marist batters. He eased up a bit in the eighth inning and with the aid of errors, Marist scored three runs.

Roberts, Clonts and Norton were the batting stars for the winners. Roberts secured two doubles and Clonts hit one double and a single. Norton hit twice. Van Houten and Kunsberg secured the only hits for Marist.

Fulton scored three runs in the first and third innings with a barrage of base hits and added four more in the sixth inning.

The Fulton county lads stole four bases, and advanced runners with five sacrifices.

Russell Rally Beats Typists, 10-7.

Russell High rallied in the fifth and eighth innings to defeat Commercial, 10 to 7, after the Typists had scored seven runs in the first two innings.

Gibson started for Russell but was taken out after Commercial scored seven runs on six hits in the first frame. Ellington relieved him and didn't allow a man to pass second base and only two found their way to the plate.

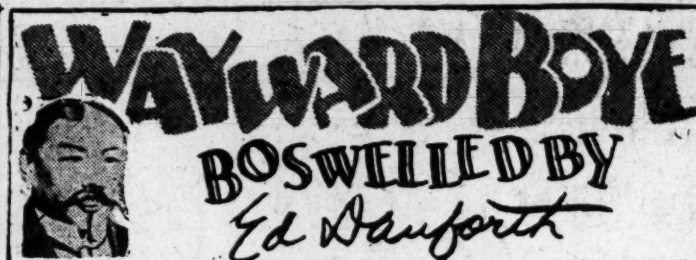

Gibson was the hitting star for the winners with three singles and a home run out of five trips to the plate. Commercial secured only three hits off Ellington in seven innings and did no damage.

Purples Hold Fourth Place.

Boys' High retained fourth position in the prep league standing with an 8 to 2 victory over University at Piedmont Park Tuesday afternoon.

The pitching of Booty McCalley, Purple Hurricane right-hander, was a feature of the game. He gave the Bluebirds only four well scattered hits.

"Atlantans will enjoy this opera more than ever for all the stars are old friends. And the stars, too, always speak of Atlanta as home."—Opera Advance Notice.

Atlanta & Bros. have gone over the top again. This time it is in the staging of a home talent seven-inning opera season.

A private dress rehearsal of "Louise," the opening opera that will be given Thursday night at the Auditorium, was held last night for the press and a few invited guests. Critics were amazed at the verve and dash with which the home-town sopranos, tenors, basses and contraltos sang their parts.

The production was given with a professional swing that would have done credit to the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company. There was nothing amateurish about it.

Miss Lucrezia Bori, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson Howell Bori, 1991-A Habersham road, sang the title role with ease and grace. In her higher registers she was reminiscent of her paternal grandmother, Samantha Wilkins Bori, who was the pride of the choir in the Antioch Baptist church. Miss Bori also is connected through the distaff side of the house with the Hills of South Carolina and the Valleys of Virginia.

Miss Ina Bourskaya was charming in the role of The Mother. The widow of the late Colonel R. Winfield Bourskaya and the daughter of George and Willie May Platt, was in superb voice.

Leon Rothier, president of the Capital City Driving Club, was entrusted with The Father role. Leon is a graduate of the University of Georgia class of '89 and a member of the Do Re Fraternity. He was married soon after his graduation to the beautiful Carrie Sue Parr. He also is a member of the Fifty Club.

Alfio Tedesco, known as "Alf" when he was a star ballplayer at Mercer, was an impressive "Nightwalker." Alf is certain to capture many feminine hearts opening night as indeed he did at the private dress rehearsal among the privileged few.

Antonin Trantoul, tenor, was the only member of the cast not from Atlanta. He is from Richmond, Ind.

Dudley Glass is to be congratulated on staging such an impressive production to open the split season opera. He also is to be thanked for falling in line with the cinema policy in arranging private pre-views of the operas for the press. In this way the public is protected from having anything put over on them.

"Louise" is certain to be a credit to Atlanta. Not every city can get up a home talent opera on such short notice.

GOLFERS READY FOR CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP

Keen Competition Is Seen as Stars Prepare for Meet.

By Herb Clark.

Dixie's outstanding exponents of golf as the collegians play it are fast tapering off in their preparations for the major sport on their year's program. The annual Southern conference tourney, to be held in Birmingham over the beautiful Shades Valley Country Club course, looms just over the hill with the business of teeing up the first ball on the slate for Thursday afternoon.

The difficulties of selecting the best conference golfer—not to mention the best conference team—are dotted to be right serious this year. Georgia's Bulldogs, defending team champions, have a long, hard road in front of them. And Harry Pritchett, Alabama captain, and defending individual champion, has just that same prospect on his cards.

HARD ON GEORGIA. Maybe Pritchett's road is just a bit lighter than that of the Bulldogs. Pritchett will at least be able to get his mind off his own trouble by devising ways and means to see that the Bulldogs sleep lightly, if at all. For Pritchett and his mates of the Tide team are expected to push the Bulldogs for the team title.

The Crimson squad has gone through a seven-match schedule without a single loss. The Tidesmen have defeated Birmingham-Southern, Emory and Southwestern, not to mention Tech, Georgia, Vandy, and Florida. Which indicates that those Tidesmen are just before going on to win more tangible and important laurels.

The success of the quartet from the Capstone has been due largely to the stellar play of Pritchett and his partner, Sam Perry. The best ball compiled by this pair in matches has never gone above par, which proves that they have been playing golf worthy of the name.

The Georgia team, composed this year of Johnny Oliver, runner up to Pritchett in the conference tournament last season; Dudley Legwin and Harrison, has also been turning in good cards to date, and can scarcely be counted out of the running even in the face of the Tide record.

OTHER CONTENDERS. Tech's quartet, Vandy's booming squad and the Tarheels of the University of North Carolina are also doped as contenders. The Jackets, with a poor record on the courses in matches played, have apparently

FISHER TAKES BIG SIX LEAD ALTHOUGH IDLE

Al Simmons and Ruth Have Big Day at Plate.

Only a few of baseball's Big Six profited from the heavy hitting in yesterday's games. Al Simmons and Babe Ruth led the ciphers for the day, but George Fisher went back into the lead without lifting a bat.

Simmons got four hits in five attempts against the Red Sox, while Ruth connected for three doubles in four times at bat against Washington to join the .300 hitters for the first time this season.

Simmons shot his average up to .425, but he could not keep pace with Charley Jamieson, of Cleveland, who hit three times in as many attempts to regain the leadership of the American league and membership in the Big Six with an average of .420. While Fisher was idle at Cincinnati, Paul Waner failed to hit in four times at bat against the Cubs and dropped to second place with .452. Rogers Hornsby, with one hit, went down to .238.

come into their power recently and may cause trouble. Both the Commodores and the Terhies have shown plenty of skill to date.

It is expected that approximately 17 Southern conference teams will be on hand to battle for the team title, while some 80 devotees of the links will contest the right of Pritchett to continue as the king of the conference.

Charlie Brumby and Scott Hudson, Jr., of Tech; Johnny Oliver, of Georgia; George Bush, of Tulane; Bill Duckwall, of Florida, and Sam Perry, Pritchett's mate, are expected to furnish most of the opposition to Pritchett's march to another crown.

The Tech squad, composed of Brumby, Hudson, Carl Harrison and Ed Heron, and the Bulldog quartet, are scheduled to leave Atlanta and Athens, respectively, for the scene of action tonight.

Gordon Nine Awaits Busy Week - End

Bass Junior High Trounces Murphy

BARNESVILLE, Ga., April 29.—One of the most interesting week-ends of the baseball season for Gordon college will be the coming one. Gordon meets G. M. C. on the diamond at Milledgeville Thursday and Friday and will return here for a game with Madison A. & M. Saturday. G. M. C. and Gordon have long been rivals and Gordon has won two games from them this season already. Of the 14 games Gordon has played this season she has emerged victorious from them all and Captain Somers has visions of the G. I. A. A. championship for his boys.

In a one-sided game on the Bass athletic field, Tuesday, Bass Junior High swamped Murphy by a score of 16 to 3.

Whiting and S. Appleby were the heavy hitters for the Blue and Gold, while Bender, Murphy pitcher, led his team with three bingles in as many times at bat.

By virtue of its victory Bass continues to hold second place in the Junior High league race with six victories and one defeat in the seven games played so far.

Walter Johnson Talks Presidents
Walter Johnson, who has been in Washington baseball since Roosevelt was president says of the fans who came from the White House to see ball games:
"President Harding was better informed than the others. He managed a club once in Marion, Ind. He used to ask me to come over and talk baseball. President Wilson attended more games. President Roosevelt was the best pitcher of them all on opening day. President Coolidge knew baseball and liked it. Mrs. Coolidge came often to our games. President Hoover has a fondness for the game and will be well informed on baseball before his term has expired."

Dempsey Has No Idea of Returning to Ring, Trumbull Says

FORMER CHAMP IS DOING WELL AS PROMOTER

Madison Square Garden's
Interest in Chicago
Arena Also Scouted.

By Walter Trumbull.

(Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance.)
NEW YORK, April 29.—Dempsey has no real idea of returning to the ring. Every once in a while he likes to fool with the notion of coming back, but I doubt whether he ever again could be induced to go through a siege of training—even to meet Carnera, although that certainly would be a temptation. To get paid a large amount of money to take a couple of socks at a mark as big as the Italian would be the former champion's idea of a good time.

Jack has had some luck as a promoter of late and that is what he wants to be, if he can make real money at it. But the story concerning Madison Square Garden, George Getz and Dempsey getting together in a scheme to build an arena in Chicago sounds a bit thin. William F. Carey has no idea of committing the Garden to any building program, over the railroad, and he has any idea of trying to purchase the present Chicago palace of sport. For one thing, I don't believe that he has any idea of the west side arena would sell.

WILL GO HUNTING.

One thing Dempsey really is considering is going on a hunting trip to Africa with George Getz. This would not be Mr. Getz's first trip to the Dark Continent, where I understand they now go out in an automobile and shoot lions before breakfast.

Such lions as Mr. Getz doesn't shoot, he brings home alive to his Michigan animal farm. It was in the cage of these lions that Mr. Getz is reported to have taken refuge when he attempted the distribution of front row seats at the Toney-Dempsey bout held under his technical promotion. Whenever anybody asked Tex Rickard for a near ringside seat, he used to refer them to Mr. Getz.

In any lion hunt Dempsey should remember what Battling Levinski once said of Jack himself. A lion may be said to hit, but it's likely to be sure death to miss.

ON THE AIR.

The chances are that the Sharkey-Schmeling bout will be radioed from the ringside. One reason is that the contest is billed as a charity affair and it should be possible to get something for the radio riches. This means that those who stay at home may enjoy a more savage encounter than that seen by those who attend. A good radio announcer can make a mediocre contest sound like the battle of Waterloo.

Washington's Fans
Are Most Optimistic
WASHINGTON, April 29.—(P)—The fans who take no chances are rapping at the Washington ball club's door for world series reservations already.

More than 200 requests had been received today, with Walter Johnson's fans having won seven straight. The club officials don't know what to do about it.

Grantland Rice

Before sailing this afternoon for the bleak and often wind-swept terraces of Sandwich, St. Andrews and Hoylake, Bobby Jones admitted that the toughest test both he and the rest of his team faced on the trip ahead was due at St. Andrews in the British amateur.

"The Walker cup matches," he said, "are all at 36 holes and that gives you a chance to start just a little raggedly and catch up later on. This applies to the singles as well as the foursomes. There are 72 holes ahead of you in the British open at Hoylake and you can make your share of errors and still have a lot of ground left in which to recover.

"But in those 18-hole matches at St. Andrews, where the amateur championship takes place, the tension is terrific for you have the feeling that if you get behind you may run out of holes before you can get going again. It is all mental, or psychological, I know, but don't forget that is a big part of golf."

"For example," he continued, "take my 18-hole match with Johnny Goodman. An iron shot that barely missed the green at the first hole, a stymie at the second, a good putt for a birdie by Goodman at the third and there I was 3 down to a good golfer with only 15 holes left. I felt as if the roof had fallen. But with 33 holes left I would never have thought about losing the first three. I know that it is all in the game, but at the same time you've got to figure in a short match that luck can play a big part, where it would not figure in a longer test.

"I recall a match at Hoylake where Ouimet missed two fairly short putts, his opponent holed two long ones and Ouimet was four down at the fourth hole. He lost on the home green to a man he could have beaten at least 5 and 4 in a 36-hole match, even after losing the first holes. I have the feeling in an 18-hole match I can't afford to make a single mistake, and I know I am not that good."

The Hip-Hip for Old Barney.

No one had much to say about Washington in the American league race this year. It was all Philadelphia—then New York, Detroit and Cleveland.

But Walter Johnson has his Senators stepping along and no one team has more friendly supporters all over the country. They are pulling for old Barney to put one over, just as a year ago most of them pulled for Connie Mack.

The speed king had to wait 17 years to get into a world series and they don't want to see him held up that long again. For all that it will take some sleight of hand stuff to keep the Athletics back in the rut much longer. In one way and another they have too many ball players. Especially pitchers and hitters.

A Tighter Race.

There will be no wild Cub gallop away from the rest of the pack this season. The Cubs, with Hornsby right, still figure to slip by, but the margin will be much tighter than a year ago.

Both Giants and Pirates are better ball clubs than they looked to be through the training seasons and teams such as Brooklyn and Philadelphia will bother a lot of them all through the year.

The early prediction that baseball was facing a boom year has already been proved by the April rush for the turnstiles. These early crowds have been the best in baseball history in spite of poor weather. There is a much keener general interest all over the country and with two fairly close races there is no question but that every old attendance mark will be broken before the frost of another fall settles on the stubble.

Defending Two Cups.

Late dispatches from across the water indicate that the British are pretty well stirred up over the defense of their two golf cups this month. There is no wild interest about the women's international team match which starts tomorrow, but there is considerable apprehension on the British side over their two amateur championships.

United States women golfers never had a better chance to win than the present time at Formby with Joyce Wethered missing. Glenna Collett will be the best golfer in the field and if she should be beaten there are still Maureen Orcutt, Helen Hicks, Virginia Van Wie and several others with a good chance to break through.

Some British golfer may hook Bobby Jones at St. Andrews, but if this happens there are still seven other able amateurs to look after. Jimmy Johnston was good enough to win the United States title. George Voight was good enough to carry Johnston to the 39th green.

George Von Elm has been one of the star amateurs of golf for many years. Ouimet, Willing, Moe and McKenzie are good enough to go a long way. There is some fear now in British circles that two Americans will dominate the final round. That can easily happen if the draw doesn't place too many of them in one sector.

CLOSE MATCHES MARK TOURNEY AT EAST LAKE

Atlanta Woman's Golf
Association Begins Play
in Regular Tourney.

Close scores and interesting matches marked the first round play Tuesday in the regular match play tournament held each month for members of the Atlanta Woman's Golf Association over the East Lake Country Club course.

In the Tuesday matches four ended with a one-hole difference and another ended all square and will be played over again this morning. Mrs. W. D. Doak, medalist, defeated Miss Rosalie Mayer 2-1. Mrs. T. T. Williams defeated Mrs. A. Guy Smith 1-up. Mrs. Carole Fraser lost to Mrs. C. G. Smith 4-3, and Mrs. M. G. Kurfess defeated Mrs. H. C. Kirkpatrick 2-1, in the championship flight.

In the second flight Mrs. Roy Burns defeated Mrs. M. D. Larned 4-2. Mrs. S. T. Gillard defeated Mrs. C. C. Clover 5-4. Mrs. John Hill defeated Mrs. G. W. Everett 5-4 and Mrs. H. T. Maloney won 1-up from Mrs. Max Menter.

In the third flight Mrs. H. C. Moore won from Mrs. S. J. Roberts by default. Three players drew byes in the third flight but Mrs. John Wilkinson and Mrs. H. M. Cobb played their match Tuesday morning. It ended all square on the 18th green and the two will play another 9-hole match this morning.

Pairings for today follow:
FIRST FLIGHT.
Mrs. Doak vs. Mrs. Williams, Mrs. C. G. Smith vs. Mrs. Kurfess.

SECOND FLIGHT.
Mrs. Burns vs. Mrs. Gillard and Mrs. Hill vs. Mrs. Maloney.

THIRD FLIGHT.
Mrs. Moore vs. Mrs. J. Hancock and Mrs. John Wilkinson vs. Mrs. H. M. Cobb.

Mrs. A. Guy Smith, East Lake representative in the Atlanta Woman's Golf Association, is in charge of the tournament and is assisted by Mrs. W. D. Doak, secretary of the association. Mrs. O. B. Koeler, president of the association, is in Europe to witness the Walker cup matches and the open and amateur tournaments in England.

Young Bulldogs Beat Madison A.-M.

ATHENS, Ga., April 29.—The Georgia freshman baseball team opened its 1930 season this afternoon by trouncing Madison A. & M., 6 to 4, on the latter team's home ground. The Bulldogs will meet the Oglethorpe freshmen in Atlanta Friday and Saturday.

Buchanan Beats Kruse

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 29.—(P)—Sammy Buchanan, 146 1-2, of Waycross, Ga., won a 10-round decision over Kai Kruse, 149, of Utica, N. Y., here tonight.

In the semi-final Oscar Howell, 30, of St. Petersburg, took a decision in 10 rounds from Ray Terrell, 133 1-2, Kansas City.

When the swing is correct, meaning that it is smooth and free from hitting exertion, the club being swung wholly by the arms, and still the ball curves, the trouble may be found in any one of several places. You may be lifting your head, which would cause you to pull. You may be coming to a more erect position. Doing this would cause you to pull. You let your body move upward just as the club passes through the ball, which makes the toe of the club turn inward, imparting the hook spin to the ball. Chances are you also let your body weave forward, which is really what does the damage, since the rolling of the forearms through the ball would not hook the ball if you held your head to a fixed place and swung through only with the arms; on the contrary, the rolling would add to the effectiveness of the stroke. (There is a rolling which should take place through the ball, but this action is so rapid that you do not think of it, or know about it, and certainly you do not attempt to direct it.) A pronounced and conscious effort to hit with the right hand, just as the ball is taken, also can make you hook unless your stroke is directional.

OMIT EFFORT TO HIT

across from the inside out, in which event you can get away with it, but you will do better to omit the hitting exertion and just let the club stroke through. (Copyright, John F. Dille Co.)

The Cardinals came around today and left their announcement. It said that the Cardinals would practice from 4 o'clock until dark at the circus grounds on Highland avenue.

It was the Cardinals who won the city, state and regional championship last season to go to Washington for the eastern championship there and lose in the semi-finals.

They lost by one score and it was not until they were on the way back that Joe Gershon, the mascot, sighed heavily and revealed the probable cause of the defeat.

The Cardinals, goggle-eyed from seeing Washington, stopping at a big hotel and marching in a parade behind Herbert Hoover, had gone out and climbed all the way up Washington monument's dizzy height just before going out to the game.

POPULAR TEAM.
The Cardinals, boys who sold soft drinks at the Spiller field in the afternoons, caught the fancy of Atlanta by their courageous, irrepressible manner.

They fought with pillows and water all night at Albany after winning the first game in the state championship and then went out to win the finals the next day.

They entered the Pullman that night, the first Pullman many of them had ever been on, at an early hour. It was hot in the Pullman. Two middle-aged ladies came aboard and traveled in the sleeper or so drifted in. There was quiet for a while.

And then bedlam broke. Joe Gershon, the mascot, pulled on his pants and served as the regimental water carrier. He paraded up and down the aisle for an hour attempting to assuage the thirst of 15 boys who were demanding water. Joe was carrying it in the little paper cups, his torso glistening from perspiration and sloshed water.

SHOCKING.
There were few pajamas in the Cardinal bags and the two middle-aged ladies who peered out now and then when things became unusually tempestuous, always retreated hastily at the sight of bare shoulders sticking out of berths and Joe Gershon plodding along bearing five paper cups, one of them caught in his teeth.

Decatur Noses
Cadets, 5 to 1.

An 11th inning spurt which scored one run gave Decatur a 5 to 4 victory over G. M. A. Tuesday afternoon at Decatur in a game marked by many arguments. Immediately after the game, Coach Burbage, of G. M. A., filed a protest with the league officials.

Clark and McKinley opposed each other on the mound and pitched fair baseball. Clark gave up 12 hits and McKinley, gave the Cadets 10 safe-ties.

Pace and Mach were the hitting stars for G. M. A. Each secured three hits, including triples. Gardner, Buick and Moore were the batting stars for the winners.

In the 11th inning, Gardner singled to start. He stole second and raced home on Moore's single to center field.

Smith, of Decatur, hit a home run in the second inning and it was that blow that caused Burbage to file a protest.

Several other times during the game, close decisions caused arguments.

Volley Ball Meet Is Real Success

Southeastern Y. M. C. A. volleyball members held their first business meeting in the Butler Street Y. M. C. A. yesterday with J. M. Chiles, director of the region, presiding. The association went into permanent organization and the following members were elected to direct the activities for the year: Ameter Traylor, Chattanooga, president; I. S. Blocker, Atlanta, first vice president; O. R. Bryant, Columbus, second vice president; A. H. Pope, Chattanooga, secretary; Sergeant S. C. Wright, Fort Benning, Ga., treasurer, and J. M. Chiles, director.

There were 33 men in attendance at this meeting, which gave promise for a fine piece of inter-city fellowship and physical recreation among the older membership of the Y. M. C. A.

The tournament, which was completed a few days ago, opened with spirit running high as Atlanta and Chattanooga met in the first series. There were three games to the series between each of the three teams. Atlanta won the first series with Chattanooga 7 and 8. Atlanta 21 and 21. Columbus and Chattanooga in the second series ended with Columbus Army Y. victorious, scores, Chattanooga 21-20-10, Columbus 21-21-15. Atlanta and Columbus met in the third and final series with Atlanta on top; scores, Columbus 4-21-9, Atlanta 21-20-10.

For the first two games of each series the winning point was 21; in the last game of each series the winning point was 15. Officials in the games were Professor F. L. Forbes, Morehouse college, referee; Rev. W. J. Faulkner, umpire; Professor Rivers, Talladega college, scorer.

The 1931 tournament will be played at Fort Benning, Ga., in April; 1930 national tournament is to be played at St. Louis, Mo., May 16 and 17. The Butler Street branch aggregation, winner of the regional tournament, are eligible for entry.

DeGlance Beats Stasiak.

MANCHESTER, N. H., April 29.—(P)—Henri De Glance, of France, took two out of three falls from Stanley Stasiak in a wrestling match here tonight. In the semi-final Count Zarnoff, of Russia, and Jack Sherry, of Ohio wrestled 45 minutes to a draw.

CARDINAL TEAM, SANDLOT KINGS, READY TO GO

Dozens of Kid Baseball
Nines Will Enter Legion Tourney.

By Ralph McGill.

There will be some new faces in the lineup of the Human Pals Cardinals, those irrepressibles who almost went to the National sandlot baseball finals last summer, when they began work this afternoon for the new season.

The Cardinals will be first away in the practice rounds that are expected to find some 30 teams busy when the actual play begins on May 15. Trammell Scott, in charge of the American Legion's athletic program, has arranged for the state tournament to be held in Atlanta about August 1.

The Cardinals came around today and left their announcement. It said that the Cardinals would practice from 4 o'clock until dark at the circus grounds on Highland avenue.

Youngest Umpire In Majors Quits

NEW YORK, April 29.—(P)—Albert D. ("Dolly") Stark, known as the youngest and fastest umpire in the major leagues, resigned his position on the National league staff today because he felt the nervous strain of umpiring was too great.

Stark's resignation was accepted by President John Heydler with regret. Without Stark, President Heydler has 11 umpires at his disposal and he said no immediate addition to the staff is contemplated.

Stark, 21, was a member of the team that won the National league pennant last year. He had been with the team since he was 17.

Stark's resignation was accepted by President John Heydler with regret. Without Stark, President Heydler has 11 umpires at his disposal and he said no immediate addition to the staff is contemplated.

leased, until after 30 days had elapsed. And what did the boys do? Why, they laughed coarsely and voted the rule a bad one.

The rule was a sensible one. The league has only a few of them. The rookie rule, passed, so the boys said, to help develop rookies, doesn't do it at all. The waiver rule doesn't mean so much. The boys seem to study the rule which possesses some horse sense.

CATCHERS FEW.
The catching situation isn't so good around the league this year. New Orleans seems to be well set as does Chattanooga. Birmingham lost Yarn Yarn, one of the most unfortunate breaks of the year. Yarn was followed by ill fortune. He was ill last season and this year has suffered a broken leg. Nashville could use another catcher. The Crackers are looking for another. Memphis is in a bad way. Southern league clubs aren't all set yet by any means.

Meanwhile there doesn't seem to be anything that can be done about the waiver rule or the rookie rule. They are both full of jokers.

Sensational.

Roger Cramer, the sensational rookie with the A's, played shortstop, outfield and pitched and caught before getting his trial. The A's will keep him in the outfield.

and two in each hand—and shedding water at every pore. There was Dog Leary, at third base. Alf Anderson, at second. Whistle Koesters, Moe Kunsburg and many others who made sandlot history with the Cardinals.

MANY TEAMS.
Their victory spurred other sandlot teams on to furious activity. Because the Cardinals went to Washington, climbed the monument and saw the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, there will be at least twice as many teams at work this year as last.

There may be some new team this year. The Cardinals have lost some of their men because of the "age limit" which provides that no boy may play who is more than 16 years of age.

At any rate the sandlotters are getting busy. Their greatest season is just ahead.

ASA WALL SIGNS WITH BUFFALO

Star Petrel Hurler To Report After June 10.

ASA WALL, who has been slugging and throwing as a member of Oglethorpe's diamond Petrels for the past three years, is slated to take his ex-ercises in the uniform of the Bisons, Buffalo's International league team, after June 10. This announcement was made jointly by Buck Collins, Bison scout, and Frank Anderson, Petrel coach. Tuesday afternoon, after Wall had signed a Buffalo contract.

Wall has been a valuable member of the Oglethorpe squad. A pitcher by ambition, he has been used mainly in the outfield because of his ability to hit. He has plenty of stuff on the mound as well. It is thought that he will play in the Buffalo outfield.

Wall will join Hugh Buchanan, another Petrel, at Buffalo. Buchanan was signed by the Bisons several years ago and has been holding a fast pace since then.

The new Bison has built up a good reputation as a member of the Petrel teams, playing football and basketball in addition to his diamond activities.

Coach Frank Anderson, under whose wing Wall has come up fast hopes for Wall's success in his new field of Class AA ball. "Asa is improving all the time," said Anderson. "He came to school as a natural athlete, and has been adaptable and ambitious to learn since then. He has a fine chance to stick at Buffalo."

Wall's name will be added to an already long list of Petrel ball players who have been sent to the professional parks by Anderson.

Dedicate Is Out Of Kentucky Derby

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 29.—(P)—The Everglade Stable's Dedicate, one of the leading western candidates for the Kentucky Derby to be run May 17, will not be a starter. X-ray examination of the colt today revealed a bumpy growth on his left knee, and he will be thrown out of training at once.

The examination followed his disappointing showing in a race here last Saturday.

Homers May Ruin Watch Company

CHICAGO, April 29.—(P)—Home run outbursts by the Chicago Cubs are a source of great satisfaction to watch manufacturers, but promise to become expensive for a firm of watch manufacturers.

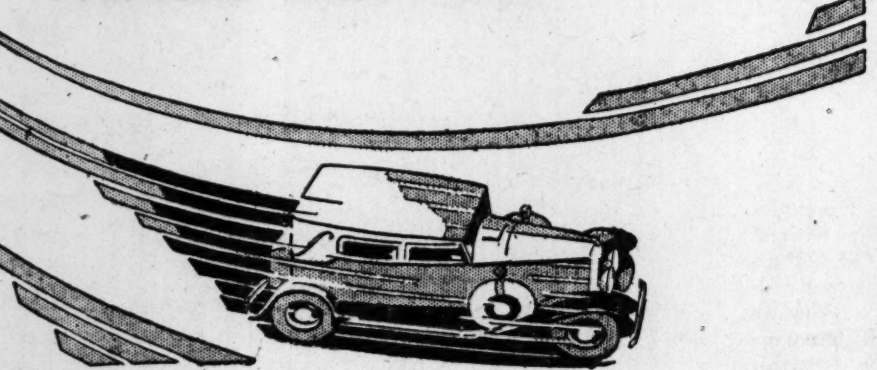

The concern offered a wrist watch for each home run by a major leaguer in either Cubs or White Sox parks, and today was in debt twice to Gabby Hartnett, who got a pair yesterday, and once to each to Cliff Heathcote and Pitcher Charlie Root.

THE JEWELS OF OPAR No. 39

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Copyright, 1935, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

Through the dark jungle and the open spaces, meadowlike, where grazed the countless herds of the mysterious continent, a weird and terrible caravan was marching in search of Tarzan. There were fifty frightful men with hairy bodies and gnarled and crooked legs. They were armed with knives and great bludgeons, and at their head marched an almost naked woman, beautiful beyond compare. It was La of Opar, High Priestess of the Flaming God.

With fifty of her horrid priests she was searching for the purloiner of the sacred sacrificial knife. Never before had La passed beyond the crumbling outer walls of Opar; but never before had need been so insistent. The sacred knife was gone. Handed down through countless ages it had come to her as a heritage and an insignia of her religious office and regal authority. Now the emblem was gone and the princess of the royal house of Atlantis burned with white-hot anger.

The zeal of the religious fanatic, whose altar had been desecrated, was triply enhanced by the rage of a woman scorned. La knew that she was beautiful. Yet she had thrown her heart at the feet of the godlike ape-man and she had been repulsed. The fires of love in the heart of this physically perfect creature, thus had been transmuted into a throbbing, pulsing volcano of hatred and revenge. How she longed to contemplate the death agonies of Tarzan!

He should be tortured with a slow and frightful death. In this state of mind, La led onward her jabbering company. Unaware were these to the ways of the jungle, yet their very numbers protected them. Three great apes accompanied them and to these was delegated the business of tracking the quarry, a feat beyond the senses of the Oparians. La commanded. She was a hard taskmaster, venting upon her misshapen people the brunt of her dissatisfaction and thwarted love.

LOWEST RATE

In Atlanta on Household Loans $100 to $300

BY REASON of large volume and by limiting our service to the larger loans from $100 to $300, "Household" has been able to reduce its interest rate to almost one-third less than the charge permitted by law.
